Recording Of Russ Pilots' Attack On U.S. Plane Bared

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today publicly confronted Russia with evidence that two Soviet jets shot down an unarmed U.S. transport plane last September. Six—and possibly 17—American airmen were killed.

The evidence was a tape recording of radio conversations between the Soviet fighter pilots.

A transcript of this recording was attached to an eight-page summary, issued by the State Department, of its efforts to pry information about the incident out of the Soviet Union.

The C130 transport disappeared Sept. 2 on a flight along the Turkey-Armenia border.

Ten days later the Soviets reported it had crashed in Armenia. The bodies of six of the 17 Americans who were in the plane were returned to U.S. officials. Under persistent U.S. inquiries, Soviet officials insisted they knew nothing about the 11 other Americans.

The summary disclosed that Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had pressed Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, on his recent visit here, for information about the missing U.S. airmen. It said Mikoyan "denied that the plane had been shot down, asserting it had crashed."

The department's document also disclosed that Deputy Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy tried to play the recording of the Soviet airmen's conversation for Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov. Menshikov refused to listen, it said, and Murphy then gave him a transcript of the recording.

The State Department did not say how the recording was obtained.

For the first time, publicly, in today's documents, the United States accused the Soviet Union of shooting down the U.S. plane. Heretofore, publicly, the United States has said only that the plane burned and crashed in Soviet Armenia after being "intercepted" by Soviet fighters.

The record of the Soviet airmen's radio contact was filled with technical chit-chat about altitudes and positions. But the key portions dwelt on an attack.

They went like this:

"582, I see the target, to the right.

"I see the target, a large one.

"I am 201, I see the target, attack.

"Attack, attack, 218, attack.

"The target is a transport, four-engined.

"Roger, 201, I am attacking the target.

"The target is burning.

"There's a hit.

"The target is burning.

"The tail assembly is falling off the target.

"Look at him, he will not get away, he is already falling.

"Yes, he is falling, I will finish him off, boys, I will finish him off on the run.

"The target has lost control, it is going down.

"The target is falling.

"Yes. Form up, go home.

"After my third pass, the target started burning.

"Well, let's form up, follow. Let's go."

Ross School Tax Hike Vote Slated

60-Cent Increase Will Be Asked On May 19 Ballot

Ross voters will be asked to authorize a 60-cent school tax rate increase at the May 19 trustee election, it was announced today by Supt. Stephen L. Parodi.

Four members of the Ross School District board of trustees voted unanimously at a special meeting Monday evening to call the tax increase election, Parodi announced. Trustee David Plant was out of town. A possible tax increase had been discussed at previous meetings, Parodi said.

The increase would make Ross School District's general fund tax limit $2.20 per $100 assessed valuation.

Parodi said, however, according to a "rough estimate" of next year's budget, the board would need to levy only 25 cents of the proposed 60 cent increase.

PRESENT RATE

At present, Ross residents pay $1.60 per $100 assessed valuation in general purpose school tax, plus 11 cents for retirement annuities, contract retirement and community services and 34 cents for bond redemption.

The present $1.60 general tax rate was approved in 1951 for a 10-year period. Parodi said the school district's 1951 budget was $101,316 compared with the current budget of $214,250.

The school trustees felt that the proposed next rate of $2.20 should be sufficient to finance operation of Ross Grammar School for the next 10-year period provided conditions do not change materially, reported the superintendent.

OFFSET BY DROP

Parodi said more than one-half of the proposed 25-cent hike this year in tax rate would be offset by a drop in the tax required to pay the district's bonded indebtedness. The payments diminish each year until the bonds are completely redeemed by the 1964-65 school year.

The trustees felt additional funds were required to finance a better teacher salary schedule and to take care of other added costs, Parodi said. Present teacher salary range at Ross School is $4,400 to $7,200.

Macmillan To Make 10-Day Visit To Russia

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has accepted an invitation to visit the Soviet Union beginning Feb. 21.

Macmillan will be accompanied by Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and will stay up to 10 days.

Moscow radio broadcast acceptance of the invitation simultaneously with an official announcement in London.

The announcements came only minutes after the departure from the British capital of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles for Paris after two days of talks with Macmillan and other British leaders on Western policy including West Berlin's future and German unification.

Dulles met Macmillan at noon after an hour-long session with Lloyd. (See story on page 7.)

Ceremony Called Off At Marin City

There will be no groundbreaking ceremony at Marin City on Sunday, Bert Klahn, executive secretary of the Marin County Housing Authority, announced today.

Plans for a ceremony have been canceled because earthmoving equipment of Williams and Burrows, contractors for the low-rent housing portion of the redevelopment, went on the job Monday. "A ceremony now seems pointless," said Klahn. "We will probably have a formal dedication ceremony when the first low-rent housing unit is completed."

LIGHTS GO ON AGAIN, AFTER 14-YEAR LAPSE

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Fourteen years ago World War II came to an end, and they turned the lights back on all over the world. In Seattle they forgot.

The lights outside the portal of the Lake Washington floating bridge were blacked out on Pearl Harbor day. Yesterday, the chairman of a chamber of commerce committee pointed out someone apparently had forgot to turn them on again.

SKIPS REDWOOD RALLY

Don Sherwood Hanged In Effigy At School

Don Sherwood, bad "bad boy" of the air waves, was hanged in effigy last night and this morning at Redwood High School after he failed to appear for a basketball rally yesterday afternoon.

Sherwood, professional master of ceremonies and disc jockey, said on his broadcast this morning he went to Los Angeles.

Jack Baat, Redwood high assistant principal, said a dummy with Sherwood's name on it was hanged from the flagpole in front of the school last night. This morning another dummy was found on a fire escape on the administration building.

A sign on the second dummy appeared to say something like "No speak the English."

At the close of the rally yesterday Terry Reilly, student president, told the assembly of 1,100 students, "You've probably wondered where Don Sherwood is . . . So do we!"

Music for the rally was furnished by Kid Ory and his Creole Jazz Band and the Redwood Pep Band. (A story about the rally appears on page 4.)

Cut In Housing Bill Defeated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today defeated another Republican attempt to cut the omnibus housing bill.

By a 53-39 vote, it rejected an amendment of Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.) to cut in half the 35,000 new public housing units the bill would authorize for the year starting July 1.

Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) announced he would move later in the day to cut 100 million dollars out of the 400 million the bill would authorize for college dormitory loans. President Eisenhower had asked 200 million.

He said he would be joined by Sens. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), chairman of the Banking Committee, and Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.), floor manager for the bill. This virtually assured the cut would be made.

Man Throws Billiard Balls In Bar Melee

A husky laborer from Petaluma was arrested at a Novato bar this morning after hurling a barrage of billiard balls, hitting the bartender's wife in the throat and sending patrons scurrying for cover.

Manuel Rincones Salazar, 34, was booked in Marin County Jail on suspicion of assault and battery, disturbing the peace and drunkenness.

Bartender William Baldwin, 36, of 854 Pine street, Novato, called the sheriff for help about 12:48 a.m. He said the man had run amok inside De Borba's Tavern.

According to the bartender, his wife, Betty, saw Salazar going through her purse and called him down on it. Salazar, enraged, ran to the pool table, and began flinging pool balls at all the patrons. Mrs. Baldwin, hit in the throat, was stunned. The others ran for cover. But the bombardment continued, one ball hitting and cracking the wall. Then Salazar left the tavern.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Newman spotted Salazar heading back to the tavern and handcuffed him just outside the door after a struggle.

Salazar was apparently going back to resume the fight, but he would not have gotten very far, Newman reported. The bartender was waiting at the door with an 18-inch club.

RIGHTS LAWS WITH TEETH ASKED BY IKE

7-point Plan Would Give U.S. Power To Deter Violence

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower called on Congress today to strengthen civil rights laws by making it a federal crime to use force or threats of force to obstruct court orders in school desegregation cases.

As part of a seven-point legislative package, Eisenhower said this proposal would give the government a valuable enforcement power to deter mob violence and such other acts of violence or threats which seek to obstruct court decrees in desegregation cases.

MODERATE PROGRAM

The program had been tagged by the President in advance as a moderate one designed not to raise temperatures.

But it may not please either Southern segregationists or Northern liberals of both parties in all respects.

The package provides:

Additional investigative power for the Federal Bureau of Investigation in crimes involving destruction or attempted destruction of schools or churches. Eisenhower would make a federal offense of flight from one state to another to avoid detention or prosecution.

ELECTION RECORDS

Authority for the attorney general to inspect federal election records and require the preservation of such records for a reasonable time, to help preserve the right to vote as "the keystone of democratic self-government."

Temporary financial and technical help to state and local agencies to help them adjust to the school integration.

Temporary authority to provide for educating children of members of the military services whose schools have been closed because of integration troubles.

Extension for two years of the life of the Civil Rights Commission. The commission will go out of business in September without an extension.

Bandit Holds Up Telegraph Office

Western Union Robbed Of $102 In San Rafael

WESTERN UNION ROBBER
As sketched by deputy

A calm bandit scribbled a stickup note on a regular Western Union money order blank last night and robbed a San Rafael telegraph clerk of about $102 after threatening to blow his head off.

The robber, whose description is strikingly similar to that of the stickup man who robbed Hiller's Shoe Store in Novato last Dec. 18, simulated a gun to hold up telegraph clerk Larry Lee Maxwell of 16 Sirard lane, San Rafael.

Maxwell told police the man walked into the Western Union office at 1004 Tamalpais avenue, San Rafael, shortly before 7 p.m. and began filling out a money order.

After about 10 minutes, he got up, said he would be right back, and walked out the front door. In about five minutes, he re-entered, walked to the counter and said, "I forgot the most important thing of all."

HANDS OVER NOTE

The robber then handed Maxwell the money order blank. On the bottom was the penciled warning: "Your 5's 10's 20's (Stick up) (Or I blow your Head off)"

Maxwell pulled the cash drawer and laid it on the counter. The robber grabbed the bills and snarled, "Don't look at the door." He ordered Maxwell to sit down on the floor, then walked out.

Maxwell looked up at the clock and noted that it was 7:03 p.m. Two minutes later, another employee, Miss Pauline Dolores Robinson, walked in, learned of the robbery and called police.

Red Germans Free Five U.S. Soldiers

HEIDELBERG, Germany (UPI) —Five American soldiers held by the East German Communists were released today.

U. S. Army European headquarters announced the men were turned over to American officials near Herleshausen. Their release was arranged by the American and East German Red Cross organizations, an Army spokesman said.

The men released included Lt. Richard Mackin of Washington, D. C., Sp. 1 4/c Kenneth G. Carlson of San Leandro, Pvt. Elwyn E. Bell, Hill City, Kan., and Pvt James W. Hayes, Baltimore, Md.

The fifth was believed to be Pvt. Melvin Hampton of the 6th Infantry in Berlin.

Release of the Americans was negotiated by Robert Wilson, director of the American Red Cross in Europe, in talks with Werner Ludwig, president of the East German Red Cross.

The Red Cross organizations were asked to negotiate because the United States does not recognize the Communist East German government and will not deal with it.

The United States repeatedly demanded the men's release in protests to Soviet authorities in East Germany. The Soviets rejected the demands, saying the United States had to deal directly with the East Germans.

Mackin had been held by the East Germans since Dec. 3 when his small L19 airplane strayed over the border into East Germany and ran out of fuel.

Carlson disappeared in Berlin Nov. 27 and Hayes dropped out of sight Dec. 26. Nothing was known about the circumstances of their disappearances, but it was feared they had strayed into the Soviet zone.

Carlson is stationed with the 8th Infantry Division in Bad Kreuznach. Bell and Hayes are attached to the 6th Infantry in West Berlin.

Pay Televising Of W. Coast Baseball Set

NEW YORK (AP)—A subscription television firm said today it is prepared to begin telecasts of major league baseball on the West Coast early this summer.

Skiatron TV, Inc., said it expects to cable games of the Los Angeles Dodgers and San Francisco Giants into homes in the two cities by approximately July 1.

The setup would be continued next fall to present regional college football telecasts on the same pay-as-you-see TV plan, Skiatron said.

Bob Hall, former Yale athletic director and one-time chairman of the NCAA TV committee, said he told the 1959 NCAA committee yesterday by telephone that Skiatron, which he represents, expects to be able to telecast the football games as part of a year-round program of sports and regular pay-TV shows.

Protests Postpone Closing Of Rail Express Office

Plans to close the Sausalito office of the Railway Express Agency Monday were postponed yesterday because of protests, reported G. A. Graham, company superintendent in San Francisco.

An informal notice that the office would be closed had been posted on the window Jan. 9. A formal protest from the Teamsters' Union brought the postponement.

Graham said that whenever plans are made to close an office, a notice is posted and becomes effective in 30 days if no protest is received.

Earl Thompson, Railway Express agent in Sausalito, who has been with the company for more than 35 years, said he was preparing to close the office Monday and was unaware of the postponement.

Graham said the company would file a formal request with the Public Utilities Commission, which will be followed by a public hearing. He said if the request is granted there will be no change in service to Southern Marin customers, since Thompson would merely be moved to the company's San Rafael office and operate from there.

Big Brokerage House Faces Fraud Charge

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today accused one of Wall Street's largest brokerage houses, Reynolds & Co., of fraud and deceit in the sale of securities and forgery of customers' signatures on letters.

Reynolds, which operates offices from coast-to-coast, also was charged with mismanaging customers' accounts and other violations of the securities laws.

HEARING SET

The Securities and Exchange Commission, which made the charges, said a public hearing will begin next Tuesday at its San Francisco office. The purpose of the proceedings is to decide whether Reynolds' broker-dealer registration should be revoked and whether the firm should be suspended from membership in the National Assn. of Securities Dealers, Inc.

In announcing hearing plans, SEC said the case has been under investigation for about two years.

REPLY TO CHARGE

In New York Robert M. Gardiner, Reynolds managing partner, issued this statement in reply to the charges:

"The matters referred to by the SEC occurred some years ago in several of our out-of-town offices. None of the employees named are now working for Reynolds and Co. Reynolds and Co. has extended the fullest cooperation to the commission in this matter."

The commission charged that Reynolds violated the law through activities at six of its offices.

Bond Issue For First Street Eyed Favorably

More San Rafael merchants today expressed growing interest in a bond issue for First street extension as the solution to the traffic problem in the downtown business area.

But they remained divided on what kind of one-way street plan should be adopted in the interim.

A group of businessmen and city officials comprising the mayor's one-way street committee, discussed the problem this morning at King Cotton restaurant. The committee will meet again at the same time and place next Thursday.

MODIFIED PLAN

Chairman Richard Cuthbert presented a modified one-way street plan that would make Second street one-way eastbound and Third street one-way westbound to E Street School, then up to Fourth and one-way on Fourth to the Miracle Mile. Mission avenue and Fifth would remain two ways, except for a portion at Mission, Court and Fifth.

Cuthbert's proposal would also leave cross streets like B, C and D two ways.

The proposal is not as extensive as that offered by the city traffic committee. That one would make one-way streets of Second, Third, Fifth and Mission and various cross streets.

Several representatives of West End, headed by Charles Zapelli of Charlie's Market, protested the plan as "picking on the West End."

EXTRA TRAVEL

Zapelli, whose market is at Fourth and G streets, said making Fourth one way at his store means shoppers would have to travel about five blocks to get to his parking lot.

"Instead of putting an ad in the paper, I'll have to put a map in the paper to show how to get there," said Zapelli.

The committee failed to agree on any of the one-way street proposals and continued the discussions until next week.

REPEAT VIEW

Irving Chapman, Meyer Schwartz and Francis Burns reiterated their contention that First street extension is the only logical long-range solution and should be pushed as rapidly as possible. James L. Callan added that he feels a bond issue could get rolling if all merchants got behind the move.

Both Burns and Chapman said they prefer to put all efforts behind the First street extension rather than diverting attention to temporary one-way street projects and thereby risking delay on the extension.

Convict Indicted For Slaying

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Sacramento County Grand Jury indicted Folsom Prison convict Andrew E. Pope yesterday for the murder of his cellmate, Joseph D. Miller.

Miller was found fatally stabbed nine times in his cell last week.

No weapon was found.

Both were convicted in Los Angeles County. Miller was serving five years to life for armed robbery. Pope was originally sentenced from 2 to 14 years for burglary but later received a life sentence for possessing a knife in prison.

Jolly Stores in Kentfield and Mill Valley will discontinue giving S and H green stamps as of Feb. 18.

Robert Vanucci, co-owner, announced in a notice handed customers at the stores that "lower prices will replace stamps at Jolly Stores." The notice continues:

"This decision comes only after careful consideration and the assistance of surveys by business engineers. These surveys tell us you are interested in saving money—not stamps."

Crash Injures S. F. Seaman

Konrad Blasutto, 53-year-old San Francisco seaman, was injured last night when his southbound car hit an abutment of the Richardson Bay Bridge. He suffered head cuts and possible rib fractures. After examination at Marin General Hospital he was transferred to Marine Hospital in San Francisco.

Blasutto was scheduled to sail for the Far East today aboard the S.S. President Hoover.

In another Highway 101 accident at 1:20 a.m. today, John I. Carlsen, 46-year-old Petaluma poultryman, escaped without injury when he fell asleep at the wheel and his panel truck overturned. Its wheels hit a divider island about 500 feet south of the Black Point cutoff.

3 Marin Merchants Bilked By Check Thief

A former bookkeeper for California Packing Co. in Sacramento stole more than $12,000 worth of company checks and is cashing them "like mad" throughout the state, including Marin County, Sheriff Louis P. Montanos disclosed today.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation also wants the man as a deserter from Ft. Bliss in Texas.

Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich issued a complaint against William E. Pohlman, 31, a native of Missouri who deserted the Army last August, worked himself up to the position of head bookkeeper at the packing company, then stole 123 checks using company protectographs.

STORES VICTIMIZED

Pohlman is accused of passing three checks for about $100 each at Littleman Stores in Corte Madera and Santa Venetia and the Food Mart in San Rafael, all on Jan. 23, the day he "skipped" the company in Sacramento.

Sheriff's Inspectors Guido Battaglia and Bowen Bridges said the checks are genuine in every respect, except for the signature of the company official, which is forged. "Any store doing business with Del Monte products would naturally cash such a check," the inspectors pointed out. "That's what makes his operation so effective."

50 CHECKS CASHED

Pohlman has been so successful thus far that in less than two weeks, he has been able to cash 50 checks for more than $5,000 in cash.

He is believed to have a wife and two children in Texas.

According to Battaglia, Pohlman went to work at California Packing plant last September. On Jan. 15 or 16, he became assistant bookkeeper.

During the week of Jan. 19-23, the head bookkeeper was on vacation, and Pohlman took over the job. On Jan. 23, he made out the 123 checks to himself and took off, passing some between Sacramento and Marin, and three in this county.

Pohlman's former roommate in Sacramento told police Pohlman came in with "a wad of money" that night, saying he had won at gambling. The next day he came home with an even bigger roll, then went off to do more "gambling."

Mill Valley Woman Accused Of Battery

Police Chief Frank L. Nelson said Mrs. Jacobson alleged Mrs. Kimbell pulled her hair and attacked her outside the H. H. Koch and Sons luggage factory yesterday. Mrs. Kimbell was released on $200 bail from county jail.

Tiburoner Files Candidacy For Fire District Commission

John P. Eichorn, 2440 Paradise drive, Tiburon, has filed candidacy for commissioner of the Tiburon Fire Protection District.

Eichorn, a manufacturer's representative with offices in San Francisco, has resided for two years on the peninsula with his wife, Fern, and teen-age daughter, Randy.

The term of Commission Chairman Eugene E. Trenam expires in April, according to Robert A. Smallman of the county counsel's office. Trenam has said he does not plan to seek re-election, reported Fire Chief Jack Ishmael. Ternam could not be reached for comment today.

The district election will be held April 7. Nominating petitions must be filed at the Tiburon Firehouse by Feb. 11. Petition forms are available at the firehouse.

Canned Cactus Gains Favor In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Southern California, headquarters for the bizarre, is offering the world canned cactus.

Tastes a bit like string beans, or maybe asparagus. The prickly pear shoots, diced, have long long been a delicacy in Mexico. The big buyers here are Mexican-Americans, who call them "nopalitos tiernos" — tender cactus.

One traditional recipe: Mix the diced shoots up in an omelette with bacon, onion, garlic and chili sauce.

Canning isn't new. But the trade has increased. Plants are cultivated for that purpose in numerous small plots throughout Southern California.

Because it's somewhat new as a specialty crop, acreage figures are not available.

Henry C. Tanklage, owner of La Victoria Packing Co., Los Angeles, a principal processor, says the plants are the same as the desert cacti "elephant ears" which also produce the edible cactus apple.

The domesticated cacti, however, are watered with a sprinkler system twice a month from April to December. Plants are spaced far enough apart to permit summer-time cutivation.

Hand labor is required to snap off shoots. Harvest workers wear gloves to avoid thorns. The shoots are crated and trucked to the cannery where they are cleaned, diced, cooked and canned.

Tanklage says the product is distributed throughout the country and that many western supermarkets stock it.

Firm Asking Release From School Bid

Dixie School District trustees will hold a special meeting tonight to decide whether to release Olsen Construction Co. from its low bid on a proposed addition to Hoffman School.

The meeting will be at 8 o'clock in the school district office at 4775 Redwood highway, announced Supt. Dennie B. Willis.

When bids for the Hoffman School addition were opened last week, the Olson firm, of Santa Rosa, was low at $105,815. However, the firm has notified the district it made an error in its bid and has asked to be released from the offer. E. Warren McGuire, assistant county counsel, will meet with the trustees to discuss whether Olsen has legal basis for release.

If the low bidder is released, the contract likely will be awarded to Zoellner Construction Co. of Ross, second low at $109,814, said Willis.

Wife Slayer On Trial For Sanity

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Mario Pinedo, the former Bolivian diplomat convicted of manslaughter for shooting his wife, went on trial today on his alternate plea of innocent by reason of insanity.

The trial will be heard by the same jury of seven men and five women who returned the manslaughter verdict against the 40-year-old former consul general here.

Pinedo has maintained he was "unconscious" when he shot and killed his wife, Charlotte, 34, last July 15. He said he suffered a temporary black out when she allegedly admitted she had been unfaithful.

Redwood Swim Teams May Use Hallinan Pool

The possibility of Redwood High School swimming teams conducting practice at the Vincent Hallinan estates in Ross was discussed last night by trustees of Tamalpais Union High School District.

Supt. Chester G. Carlisle asked the trustees for their opinions about using a private swimming pool as a practice site for the pool-less Redwood teams.

He said negotiations with the Edgewater Inn for use of its pool have been dropped because of proposed repairs. He then advanced the names of Hallinan and Paul Daly of Larkspur as persons having agreed to free use of their pools.

Carlisle said consideration was given use of pools at Sir Francis Drake and Tamalpais High Schools, but it appeared they would be less convenient than private pools because of transportation, scheduling and equipment problems.

Donald Kreps, principal of Redwood High, said two of the Hallinan boys, Matthew and Conn, are members of the swimming team.

Final decision was to allow Carlisle to continue study of use of a private pool.

Tom McDougall, tax increase foe and announced board candidate, rose at the end of the meeting to ask that the board "do something about the continual propaganda being given students in support of the tax increase."

McDougall asked that "equal time be given the loyal opposition."

There was no board comment.

Resignations of two teachers were accepted: Mrs. Mary Ann Sears, Tamalpais High English teacher, who resigned to help her husband in law practice, and Mrs. Matilde diSuvero, Redwood High language teacher, who said she wished to go into the real estate business.

The board also:

1. Authorized expenditure of the remaining $41,000 in the Tamalpais High rehabilitation fund.

2. Approved $2,205 in bills for completion and repairs to the Redwood High sewage lines while litigation pends with the E. A. Forde Co., original contractors.

PG&E Publicizes San Rafael Lights

New and better street lights installed in San Rafael are featured in the February issue of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. publication, PG&E Progress.

A picture shows workmen installing a new type light on Lincoln avenue. On top of the light is a photo-electric cell which automatically turns light on in morning and off at night. The conventional method is for photo cells to control 300 to 400 lights in one circuit.

The color-corrected mercury vapor light is also in use along Lincoln avenue and on Fourth street between D and E streets. They produce eight foot-candles of light on the street level as compared with one foot-candle from conventional street lights.

GETS BARS — William L. Casper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Casper of Mill Valley, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Force at University of California in Berkeley. He received his bachelor's degree in engineering. He will be called to duty with the Air Force sometime this spring as a sanitary and industrial hygiene engineer.

Clingman's Dome and Clingman's Peak, two mountains in North Carolina, were both named after Gen. Thomas Lanier Clingman, an explorer who served in the Confederate army and the U.S. Senate.

Bon Air Span Complete But Inaccessible

The $100,000 Bon Air Bridge spanning Corte Madera Creek will be completed tomorrow, Larkspur City Engineer John C. Oglesby announced last night.

It won't be much use for traffic for at least another six months, however. About the only way to get on the bridge, said Oglesby, is to use a ladder. A roadway must be built on filled marsh land at either end.

The county is responsible for building the connecting road on the north from Marin General Hospital. Larkspur is responsible for the road on the south end from Magnolia avenue. By contract each has six months from the time the bridge is completed. Oglesby said the Larkspur Council would call for the bids at its March 4 meeting for its portion of the new Bon Air road.

Responsibility for relocating a water main going through a portion of land when Larkspur plans to use for fill lies with the Marin Municipal Water District, said Samuel W. Gardiner, Larkspur city attorney.

There are three major American ballet companies now in existence.

REDWOOD HIGH RALLY

Jazzman Ory Steals Show From Political Speakers

Seventy-two-year-old Kid Ory and his Creole Jazz Band stole the show from political speakers yesterday at Redwood High School.

The event was a pre-game basketball rally which combined politics, music, installation of student body officers and school yells.

The performance by the Sleepy Hollow master of jazz drew the heaviest applause from the assembled 1,100 students.

McDOUGALL SPEAKS

Speaking for five minutes in opposition to the proposed Tamalpais High School District tax rate increase was Tom McDougall of Mill Valley, board of trustees aspirant and consistent foe of tax increases.

McDougall drew only polite applause as he took to task the claim that operation of the district now was like "trying to run three cars with the money for one."

McDougall said figures show total expenditures have risen from $593,380 in 1948-49 to $2,312,139 in 1957-58.

He said costs for one school plant 10 years ago were $593,380, but they now are $770,713 for each of the three.

He told the students many of them would be mothers and fathers before 1982, when last of the $4,285,000 bonded indebtedness of the district will be paid off.

HEAR BOTH SIDES

McDougall several times urged students to hear speakers from both sides of the matter.

Speaking for the tax measure was Robert E. Rogers of Sausalito, chairman of the speakers bureau of the Committee for Education.

Rogers cited scholastic records of Tam district students, according to Iowa tests, and said the district must maintain the high level of achievement.

He said he hoped Redwood would win its game in the afternoon with Marin Catholic High School. He said he thought the present high school program reflects well the wishes of the community.

Rogers' talk was followed by loud applause.

School yells and the Ory band followed.

This petition, 1,500 feet long, was filed with the clerk of the House of Representatives in Washington yesterday by a group of people who do not care for the Supreme Court. Rain Said Heading For North State

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A little rain may be on the way.

The Weather Bureau's report today said:

"Cloudiness will increase in the extreme north portion of California tonight and rain is expected from about Ukiah and Redding northward Friday. Showers are indicated for the Sierra Nevada north of Tahoe.

"The weather front will bring cooler air into Northern California Friday."

The front bringing this change was off Juneau, Alaska, today and was due to reach Crescent City tomorrow.

$106,464 Improvement Job For Angel Isle Park

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—A $106,464 development program for enlarged Angel Island State Park will be "under way within the next few weeks."

Newton B. Drury, chief of the Division of Beaches and Parks, said today that bids are being sought for construction of picnic facilities, group camping areas and a sewage plant, as well as other minor facilities.

In addition, an allocation for construction of a $23,000 pier and boating facilities is ready to go before the Public Works Board for approval at its next meeting. "We are anticipating no difficulty" in getting the approval, Drury said.

A recent gift of 183 acres from the federal government has increased the size of the park to 220 acres, Drury noted. The park includes Hospital Cove and its surrounding area.

Ava, Tennis Star Linked

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The wife of tennis star Tony Trabert says she isn't concerned over reports linking her husband with movie actress Ava Gardner.

"Tony is very upset," said Shauna Trabert, a former beauty queen here. "He just wrote another letter hoping everything was all right and hoping I would understand . . . which I do."

Australian newspapers have described Trabert as Miss Gardner's latest romantic interest.

Trabert is in Australia with a professional tennis troupe. Miss Gardner is there making a picture.

The 30 stores in the center will be open until 9 p.m. tomorrow and 5:30 p.m. on Saturday. The sale will be in effect both days.

Larry Gaisford, Dollar Days chairman for the Corte Madera Merchants Assn., said his group plans to make the sale an annual event.

He said shoppers will find more than 2,000 parking places around the center for their convenience.

He said the stores plan to offer excellent values to insure success of the event.

McCarthy Bills Would Speed Rapid Transit

I-J Special Service

SACRAMENTO—Three bills to speed rapid transit to the San Francisco Bay Area were introduced in the Legislature yesterday by Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy.

At the same time, however, a move developed in the state Assembly to eliminate from future consideration another McCarthy project, the San Francisco-Tiburon bridge.

The senator's transit bills provide:

1. Gas tax funds could be used for purchase of rights of way for rapid transit projects. McCarthy called this a "realistic approach to alleviating traffic congestion on highways." He said it is doubly important now since San Francisco has decided to eliminate most of the proposed freeways through the city.

2. An underwater tube between San Francisco and Oakland to be financed by the state, partly from bridge tolls, and leased to the rapid transit district. This measure would not be effective before 1961 and in no case unless a proposed bond issue to finance the rapid transit system is passed by the voters.

3. Transit district voters could approve district bonds by a 60 per cent majority, rather than a two-thirds vote.

The battle over the Tiburon bridge came up in the Assembly on a proposal to approve the 10.5-billion-dollar state freeway master plan. San Francisco legislators suddenly realized that although they eliminated some 295 million dollars worth of freeways from the city, at the request of the board of supervisors, the proposed bridge still was included in the master plan.

Assemblyman Charles W. Meyers refused to sign the legislation and Edward Gaffney, who had already signed it, said he would seek to amend the bridge out of the measure.

In effect the action would also amend out a second freeway through Marin. In the long-range master plan, a freeway is proposed across the bay from San Francisco to Angel Island to Tiburon and then up the east side of the county joining Highway 101 north of San Rafael. Without a bridge, the Division of Highways would presumably be unable to construct the second Marin freeway.

Girl Peanut Vendors Brush Up On Technique

(Jack Foisie, Tamalpais Valley resident, San Francisco newsman and a Camp Fire father, has contributed the following article to help promote the sale of Camp Fire peanuts this month.)

Some time during the next week or so, there will be a knock at your door by a pair of the sharpest and most determined young salesladies you've ever encountered.

They will be Camp Fire Girls (or their younger Blue Bird sisters) selling peanuts. The Marin County Council is holding the peanut with the proceeds going to supplement the Camp Fire Girls' share of this year's rather meager United Crusade fund.

"Now, girls," Mrs. Jean Porter said to her 19 young ladies at a sales meeting of the Hill and Valley Camp Fire Girls group the other night. "Let's rehearse. Karen, when I open the door, how do you greet me?"

FIRST TRY

"Hello, I'm Karen Routley and I belong to the Camp Fire Girls. I think you will like them."

There was a burst of laughter from Karen's colleagues. Mrs. Porter smiled.

"I think you would like what, Karen?"

"Oh," Karen ooped. "By selling peanuts we earn money for our group and the Marin County Council which will be used to improve the program so more girls can become members and also we can fix up Camp Kilowana, our summer camp."

ON LEAVING

"Very good, Karen. Now what is most important to say when you leave. Eileen?"

"Have we made a sale?"

There was more laughter.

"Well, yes," Mrs. Porter decided.

"Then we smile and thank them very much."

"What if you didn't make a sale?"

Eileen O'Connell considered for a moment. "Smile and say thank you very much anyway," she ventured.

"Right," Mrs. Porter said happily. "Always be courteous. Always keep smiling."

FATHER MOANS

Out in the kitchen a father (who also was a salesman) moaned in dismay. When the girls came out for fruit juice and cake he suggested to Mrs. Porter he might provide a few selling tips.

"Girls, I understand you've two sizes of cans of peanuts to offer—the regular size at 50 cents and the giant size at $1. Which do you make the big pitch on?"

Wendy Behr spoke immediately. "The giant one first. If they say it's too large, then we sell them two small cans.

The salesman-father beamed: "Very good. VERY good. Now you're selling in pairs. That could mean an argument over who gets credit for the sale. How do you plan to handle that?"

TAKE TWO!

"Oh, that's easy," the group president, Linda Goodfellow replied. "We say, now that you've bought a can from my girl friend, why not buy one from me, also."

The salesman-father nodded his admiration.

Mrs. Porter asked: "Should the girls stress the urgent need for money for Council activities? Our annual budget is down to rock bottom at $31,500. United Crusade can only spare us $18,000 this year. The remainder must come from peanuts. We need to sell 60,000 cans of them."

DOOR-TO-DOOR

"It's the Council that's in a bind," the salesman-father agreed. "But for the door-to-door pitch, I think the girls could do well also stressing how they individually benefit.'

"The group gets four cents on every dollar of sales," Mrs. Porter replied.

"And we get business honors 202 and 216," a pretty young lady announced, "and maybe 212 and 502 if we sell a lot of peanuts."

"Honors are what Boy Scouts call merit badges?" salesman-father asked.

"Yes, they help us advance in rank."

"Peanuts for promotion! Great line!"

TROPHY AT STAKE

"And the group which sells the most in the county wins a trophy! And a certificate for every girl who sells $15 or more."

"Don't see how you girls can miss with all that incentive."

"We sure won't," several girls chorused. "The peanuts we have left we're going to sell to our fathers!"

They laughed and laughed even after salesman-father had departed.

Muir Beach To Get Water Meters

Directors of the Muir Beach Community Services District announced last night that letters are being mailed to all of the district's consumers informing them that water meters are about to be installed.

Secretary-manager John White said the letter will inform customers that there will be a charge of $40 per meter which is payable at time of installation.

Directors also passed an ordinance embodying rates and charges. It will be publicly posted, White said.

Director Leslie Smith, an engineer with offices in Tiburon, announced he is engaged in research on converting salt or brackish water to usable clear water and hopes to have some information on the subject soon.

Architect, Wife, 'Other Woman' In Divorce Court

Separation from his wife cured his asthma, architect Donn Emmons told a Marin County judge, but didn't cure his wife's temper.

If her temper was sometimes bad, said Mrs. Nancy Emmons, it could be blamed on her husband's "running around" with Audrey Ksanda, Holland-born blonde who lives in a Sausalito houseboat.

Both Emmons and Mrs. Emmons have filed suit for divorce. Suit and countersuit are being tried before Judge Jordan L. Martinelli in Marin Superior Court.

Yesterday, Emmons, 45-year-old member of the San Francisco architectural firm of Wurster, Bernardi and Emmons, told the court that his wife (1) was a sloppy housekeeper, (2) was rude to his friends, (3) had an ungovernable temper, (4) hit him, (5) threw rocks at his sports car. The effect, he said, was to make his life miserable and interfere with his work.

ASTHMA ATTACK

He said that in 1953 he suffered an attack of bronchial asthma which lasted two and one-half years—vanishing after he separated from his wife.

Miss Ksanda, who formerly worked for Emmons' architectural firm, was called to the stand and added her own bit to the charges against Mrs. Emmons.

One night in 1955, she said, Mrs. Emmons appeared at the Ksanda door with an ax and started to chop her way in. Police arrived before she completed the job.

"Isn't it true that Mr. Emmons was at your apartment at the time and both of you were in night attire?" asked John Jay Ferdon, Mrs. Emmons' attorney.

"We were," said Miss Ksanda.

GIFT CHECK

Miss Ksanda also admitted she had received an $1,100 check from Emmons last year, but denied he gave her a sports car. Their friendship, she said, began after Emmons and his wife separated.

An earlier witness for the complaining husband was Mrs. Ann Oppenheim of 61 Morningsun avenue, Mill Valley.

She testified Mrs. Emmons was given to outbursts of temper.

The case was continuing in Judge Martinelli's court this afternoon.

Mrs. Emmons, who lives at 471 Throckmorton avenue, Mill Valley, claims her husband earns $30,000 a year. She is asking $1,430 a month to support herself and her three children.

Bill Would Up Assembly Membership

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The first reapportionment measure of the 1959 session popped up in the Legislature today.

Proposed by Sen. Richard Richards (D-Los Angeles), it would:

1. Increase state Assembly membership from 80 to three times the number of California congressmen — 30 at present but certain to go up to possibly 37 in 1961.

2. Provide that Assembly districts shall not vary in population by more than 15 per cent at the time of apportionment, and congressional districts by not more than 10 per cent.

Each congressional district would consist of three Assembly districts "of compact and contiguous territory."

Richards' bill, similar to one rejected by a Senate committee two years ago, would not change the Senate's historic 40 districts.

Chinatown Invites Ex-Marin Author

Former Sausalito author Chin Y. Lee, who rose to fame as the creator of "The Flower Drum Song," now playing to packed houses in New York in the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, will make a triumphant return to San Francisco tomorrow.

On a tour sponsored by the firm which makes the records of the songs in the musical, Lee will take part in San Francisco's Chinese New Year celebration. He will serve as "dean" of judges who will select Miss Chinatown, U.S.A.

Lee no longer lives in Sausalito but divides his time between Hollywood and New York.

School Windows Broken

About 15 windows were broken at Oliver Hartzell School in San Rafael Meadows, Principal Dwight Manning reported to the sheriff yesterday. Investigators said BB gun pellets were responsible for the damage.

Larkspur Delays Vote On Business Licensing

A new Larkspur business license ordinance, introduced at last month's meeting, last night was put into cold storage for another month while City Manger Ronald E. Piper revises the sections on door-to-door solicitation and canvassing.

Piper told the city council he would probably have it ready for re-introduction at the March 4 council meeting.

The original ordinance would require door-to-door salesmen, handbill distributors, solicitors and street vendors to pay $120 a year or $5 a day for a Larkspur business license.

A potential protest from Harold C. Stevensen of 2 Ardmore road, Larkspur, was put off when he discovered the section he objected to was being revised.

The Larkspur City Council last night also:

1. Signed warrants in the amount of $46,495.

2. Named Councilmen H. H. Wheeler and Paul W. Cane to a committee including representatives of Corte Madera and Tamalpais Union High School District to find out if a swimming pool may be built as a joint venture.

3. Accepted a auditor's report on the last three months of 1958. "Wouldn't there be a commotion if the books didn't jibe?" observed Wheeler.

4. Granted the Larkspur Women's Club continued use of the city hall, although City Manager Piper and Mayor Daniel Allen are to meet with representatives of the club to work out a few problems. Use of the city hall was also granted to Larkspur-Corte Madera Parent-Tacher Assn.

5. Postponed decision on installation of a $334 public address system for the council chambers. It would be installed at cost by Oakley Dexter, who has a Larkspur electronics business.

6. Postponed action on annexation to the city of two properties on Palm Hill, approximately half of an "unincorporated island" there. The properties face on Elm avenue and are owned by John Keller and T. J. McWaters.

7. Accepted a deed for the street but not the improvements of Chevy Chase Court.

Crash Halts Stolen Car

A 17-year-old boy who ran away from his Ft. Bragg home because he was teased by school mates for having been picked up last month on a burglary charge, stole a car south of Novato today and got only as far as the Black Point Cutoff before the car was demolished in an accident at 10:20 a.m., according to the California Highway Patrol.

The youth tried to make a left turn against a red light and his stolen car was hit broadside by a northbound truck, driven by Dales Francis Cox, 32, of Mendocino County, reported CHP Officer William Roberts. The car swung around and hit a stopped car at the intersection.

The boy ran from the wreck across the flat lands toward the bay. He was spotted by Sheriff's Deputy Harold Goerndt. The boy stopped running when Goerndt fired one shot in the air. He was booked at the County Jail on charges of car theft and hit-run property damage and taken to Juvenile Hall.

Another youth had been taken into custody earlier by a CHP officer because he exactly tallied with the description given by witnesses. He was released.

Owner of the stolen car was Richard T. Wertz of Vallejo, who had parked it with the keys in the ignition.

Senate Approves Roads, Bridge In Lake Tahoe Area

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A resolution authorizing the Division of Highways to go ahead with construction of a low-level highway through two state parks and a bridge across Emerald Bay was approved by the state Senate yesterday.

The resolution introduced by Sen. Swift Berry (R-Placerville) authorizes the division to proceed with plans to construct a highway through Bliss and Emerald Bay State Parks and a bridge across the bay.

Opponents to the measure said it would destroy the scenic grandeur of the Lake Tahoe area.

Proponents, however, maintained that the scenic qualities would be enhanced and that the proposed route would allow traffic to proceed from one end of the lake to the other without danger of slides.

Harbor Committee Meets Tomorrow

The harbor committee of the Marin Development Foundation will meet tomorrow noon at Sabella's restaurant in Alto to decide its stand regarding use of county airport funds to develop seaplane facilities at Commodore Aviation.

John Middleton, chairman, who called the special meeting, said it will be attended by Jack Edwards, president of the California Marine Parks and Harbors Assn. and past president of the Pacific Inter-club Yacht Assn., and Gibbs Lawson, director of Northern California operations of the Civil Air Patrol.

HOLDUP

Western Union, estimated the loss at $102. Another $10 bill and a $20 bill had been overlooked. They were in the bottom of the cash drawer under money order drafts.

The robber was described as about 35 to 40 years old, 5 feet 5 inches tall, not over 150 pounds, with black hair, slender build. He wore a maroon jacket and spoke in a low voice.

Sheriff's Deputy Edmond Mauberret drew up a composite sketch of the bandit from a description furnished last night by Maxwell.

A bandit with similar facial features robbed Hiller's Shoe Store of about $347 last Dec. 18.

Young GOP Hears Industrial Aide

Phil Knox, director of government relations for the California Manufacturer's Assn., told Marin County Young Republicans Tuesday evening about "Partisan Politics in California."

Knox was until recently the Northern California director of the Republican State Central Committee. He traced development of California politics from the early days of "snap primaries," through the "reforms" of Gov. Hiram Johnson, to the present era of "personality cults—where people tend to orbit around personalities rather than around the principles they represent."

Knox emphasized the need for immediate action by the GOP if it hopes to regain the state Assembly in 1960.

President Sid Howard presided at the meeting.

TB Assn. Donations Exceed Last Year's

"Marinites have again expressed their confidence in the work of the Tuberculosis Assn. by their generous support. The returns are now $24,897—$1,500 more than the total returns for last year," John Gaidano of Mill Valley, county tuberculosis seal sale chairman, reported today.

"There is still time to send in your contribution and help insure this service as the association fiscal year closes March 31," said Gaidano.

Carmel Hits Manager Govt. In Hub

Mrs. Carmel H. Booth, San Anselmo councilman and consistent foe of the city council-city manager form of government, told a group of 25 last night that San Anselmo could not afford a city manager.

Arthur W. Brewer, appointed San Anselmo city manager last year, receives a salary of $800 a month.

"Government is simple, but managers make it complex," declared Mrs. Booth.

The second speaker in the debate sponsored by the San Anselmo Improvement League was Kenneth R. Ball, former city councilman.

Ball said a city was like a corporation and the policy-making body (the council) should be relieved of petty administrative details by an administrative office (the city manager).

Jerome B. Hannigan, another former councilman, moderated the debate.

Woman Suffers Scalp Cut In Bar

Mrs. Billie Ruth Conrad, 32, of 43 Rosemont avenue, San Anselmo, suffered a scalp cut at Club Moderne bar in San Rafael this morning.

She was released from San Rafael General Hospital after the cut was sutured. Police said they are not sure how she was hurt, but the bar owner said she had tripped over another patron's foot and hit her head on the floor. Another customer mentioned a fight of some kind, according to police.

Officers Leon deLisle and Leo Schwab were called to the bar at 1:35 a.m. They said Mrs. Conrad refused to go to the hospital and had to be strapped down in a stretcher and carried into the ambulance.

Frances Harris Dies At Home

A KISS FOR CASTRO

Dulles In New Talks With Macmillan

LONDON (UPI)—U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles scheduled a second round of talks with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd today before flying to Paris for conferences with French leaders on cold war problems.

Dulles leaves by plane for Paris in the afternoon. He arrived in London yesterday from Washington on a mission designed at working out a united allier policy on Germany, Berlin and other East-West issues.

BIGGER ROLE

French diplomatic sources said President Charles de Gaulle intended to make a strong bid for a bigger role by France in international affairs.

Dulles said in London he brought "no new proposals," that he had come to listen rather than talk during his visit.

He met yesterday with Macmillan and Lloyd and other top British officials.

TOUGH POLICY

Informed sources said there was complete agreement on a flexible but tough policy on Germany and the Berlin crisis.

At the same time, Dulles was reported to have approved a go-it-alone mission to Moscow by Macmillan.

Dulles conferred first with Gen. Lauris M. Norstad, NATO supreme commander. He spent two hours with Lloyd and conferred two hours later with Macmillan and Lloyd.

THEY CAN TAKE INSULTS, IF MONEY THERE

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Because the city needs revenue, officials decided to swallow pride and honor an irate citizen's checks.

The first one read, "Pay to the order of the thieves of city hall, $13.50 for water from a bunch of crooks."

A second one for $9.75 was made out to "The crooks of city hall, for a few drops of water and over-charged sewer tax."

Call Out The Navy

OCEAN CITY, N. J. (AP) — A cabin cruiser ran aground in the intercoastal waterway near here. The Coast Guard sent a boat to free it.

The Coast Guard then sent another boat to free both the cabin cruiser and its would-be rescuer. It too had run aground.

Khrushchev Invites Ike To Visit Russia

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev today invited President Eisenhower to Moscow as a step toward bringing the two nations together and ending the threat of nuclear war.

Khrushchev extended the invitation in a speech in which he also denounced Eisenhower and the U.S. administration for ignoring the "thaw" in the East-West cold war. This, he said, was the policy of "dealers in blood."

He said the tour of the United States by Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan "in particular" helped along this thaw, and added:

"Should the President decide to come to our country he would be met with sincere hospitality by our government and the Soviet people."

"A visit of this kind would undoubtedly be useful to both countries and would meet with the approval of the peoples of the USA and the Soviet Union," Khrushchev said in the speech before the 21st congress of the Soviet Communist Party.

"Let the President take the map of the Soviet Union and choose the areas of our countries he would like to visit."

Khrushchev was the final speaker at the congress which he had opened with the claim that economic competition is now enough to win the world to communism and war is no longer inevitable.

Khrushchev spoke with considerable feeling. His theme was that mass-produced Soviet missiles can now hit anywhere in the United States so the two major powers must reach an understanding.

The delegates cheered Khrushchev and his policies — in particular the new seven-year plan designed to carry the USSR ahead of the United States industrially.

"We want only one thing," Khrushchev said, "the speediest end to the cold war.

"And, Mr. (John Foster) Dulles, . . . we are even prepared to admit your victory in this war that is unwanted by the peoples.

"Regard yourselves, gentlemen, as the victors in this war —but end it quickly."

GIs Detained By Russ Think Incident Deliberately Set Up

HELMSTEDT, Germany (AP)—The drivers of a U.S. Army convoy held by the Russians for more than 50 hours said today they got the impression the Soviets had deliberately set up the incident in advance.

Specialist Elwood F. Johnson of Brooklyn, N.Y., acting as spokesman for the four drivers, said he couldn't explain their feeling, but "we got the impression it was prearranged."

"Within minutes of arriving at Marienborn we realized trouble was brewing up," he told a news conference at this Iron Curtain border town. The conference was held before the drivers and their four trucks resumed their interrupted journey from West Berlin to Mannheim in West Germany.

Cpl. Richard C. Masiero of Stockbridge, Mass., the convoy commander, had returned to Berlin.

Soviet border guards halted the convoy Monday at the Marienborn checkpoint because Masiero had refused to permit an inspection of its cargo of broken-down jeeps. The convoy was released without an inspection late yesterday after strong U.S. protests, including one from President Eisenhower.

The ice core, four inches in diameter, has a total length of more than 1,300 feet. (AP Wirephoto)

Assembly Given Brown Wage Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown's promised wage legislation, setting a minimum of $1.25 an hour, arrived in the Assembly today.

The bill was sponsored by Assemblyman Augustus Hawkins (D-Los Angeles), who said there were few exemptions to the basic minimum.

Assemblyman A. Phillip Burton (D-San Francisco) has already introduced a bill calling for a minimum wage of $1.50 but legislators gave the governor's more conservative proposal a better chance at passage.

Cuba Claims Yank Admits Death Plot

HAVANA (AP)—The National Police early today announced that a former U.S. Navy pilot had confessed he came to Cuba in December to kill rebel leader Fidel Castro.

A statement from National Police headquarters said Alan Robert Nye, 31, had admitted he was promised $100,000 by the chief of the Batista air force, Brig. Gen. Carlos Tabernilla, if he killed the rebel chieftain.

Nye, who says his home is in Whiting, Ind., but who gives Coral Gables, Fla., as his last address, was arrested in Oriente Province by Castro's men Dec. 26, five days before former President Fulgencio Batista gave up the fight against the revolution and fled to the Dominican Republic.

Tabernilla fled at the same time, to the United States.

There was no immediate indication what action the revolutionary government would take against Nye. He is being held in the central Havana jail. In talking with newsmen Monday, the American denied that he had come to Cuba to assassinate Castro and insisted he came to help the rebels. The police statement today said he had made his confession voluntarily.

'X' Mark In Snow May Be Clue To Missing Airplane

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Civil Air Patrol, searching a week for a missing plane with three men aboard, today sent a ground party on snow shoes toward a Sierra cabin near a large "X" marked in snow.

The sign was spotted yesterday by two CAP planes. They circled the cabin but no one came out. It is near Leake Springs on highway 88, six miles north of Bear River Reservoir.

CAP officers indicated they will ask the Air Force for permission to call off the search Sunday if no further leads are found. Pilot Lloyd Locke of Orangevale and Albert Arkin and Charles Lutener of San Francisco have been missing since Tuesday night on a flight from here to Reno.

Fortune In Gems Lies In Fire Debris

NEW YORK (AP) — A police guard has been thrown around the "House of Diamonds" jewelry exchange, where maybe a million dollars worth of gems are lying in the debris after a fire.

The smoky blaze broke out yesterday in the two-story building at the corner of Canal street and the Bowery. An estimated 10 million dollars worth of diamonds were in the structure.

We Can Lose Our Freedom Inside Our Government

Often cartoonists with a few strokes of the pen and a few words in a cutline can bring home a message of vital importance.

Interlandi, the artist who draws our daily "Cynic's Corner" cartoon on this page, has done just that today. Thus we are using it both for our editorial cartoon and for brief mention here.

We are happy that Americans have not had the experience of being without freedom. Yet we must not forget that we once were without it and may in the future lose it if we don't continually fight for it.

And we do not entirely mean the fight against Communism, although this is the most important and obvious danger of our era.

There also are insidious little nibblings inside of our form of government. One by one we are turning over our rights and prerogatives, our liberties and our responsibilities to some form of governmental agency. And each time we seem to put it farther away from our grasp—if not the county, the state; if not the state, the federal government.

So in every piece of legislation the voters allow to be passed in San Rafael, in Sacramento or in Washington, D.C., the question should be asked:

Have we "forgotten what it's like to be WITHOUT freedom?" Would this legislation being considered take away still more of our liberty? If so, is it worth it?

Maybe then we wouldn't have quite so many laws.

1959, The Register and Tribune Syndicate

"Don't let American criticism bother you, they've forgotten what it's like to be WITHOUT freedom. . . . !"

The Throw-Away Instinct

There is one fundamental instinct of the female of the human species which has gone unrecorded by professional psychologists. We refer to that universal female phenomenon, the throw-away instinct.

It doubtless dates back from prehistoric times. Mrs. Caveman probably disposed of Mr. Caveman's most comfortable bearskin loincloth because it was a bit worn around the edges. And she probably urged him to get rid of all those stone axes and arrowheads that were cluttering up her nice, clean cave.

In modern times the female throw-away instince has more often taken the form of the disappearance of a favorite jacket just when it becomes comfortably worn at the elbows. Valuable papers fall easy victims to this powerful urge. Caught in its sway, a possessed female is apt to call anything "junk" and out with it.

We hope modern science is studying this problem and will devise some satisfactory means of dealing with it. In the meantime, the best advice we can give long-suffering males is, be patient and understanding. Remember, you are not alone.

REPORT ON TAM SCHOOL DISTRICT

Marin County Is Not Needy, Our Purchases Are Proof Of That

Here in Marvelous Marin where, as one rooter said, "everybody lives who can," personal income per capita is fourth highest in Bay area counties.

Total personal income has increased 100.7% since 1947 (the year the current $1.25 Tam District tax was levied). Retail automotive sales have increased 101.3% since 1950, and the number of businesses in Marin has increased nearly 50% in the past decade, as compared with a 16.1% increase in northern California as a whole.

IN 1957, Marinites spent well over $15,000,000 in the county on packaged liquor, tobacco, and eating and drinking in restaurants and bars, $26,397,000 on cars, a staggering total of $103,058,000 in retail outlets alone.

These figures, compiled by the State Chamber of Commerce from State Board of Equalization files, would indicate that Marin County is far from "needy."

There is no significant rise in tax delinquencies. We are not—let's face it—a "distressed area." We are affording good schools.

IN THIS SAME 1957, Marin taxpayers spent $17,283,454 on all the current and capital cost of public school education.

Of that sum $1,990,774 was used by the Tamalpais High School District to support and maintain the educational program of two high schools (instead of the one the $1.25 tax was levied for in 1947) and the education of 3051 teenagers (in 1947, there were 1552). Now we have three high schools (since Redwood), 3300 students—and the same tax rate.

Taxpayers are today paying in local support of the Tam High School District:

General Purposes	$1.25
Teacher Retirement	.05
Community Services	.05
Bond Redemption	.20
Total tax	$1.55

Only the general purpose rate is in question at the Feb. 17 election.

THE TAMALPAIS district is a sizeable one including about half of the area of the county and 60 per cent of the residents. It includes 11 elementary districts each with its own tax ceiling.

Here are the general tax rates of these elementary districts:

Lagunitas $1.75; Fairfax $1.25; San Anselmo $1.35; Ross $1.60; Bolinas $1.10; Kentfield $1.75; Larkspur-Corte Madera $1.35; Stinson Beach $.80; Mill Valley $1.54; Reed Union $2.25 and Sausalito $1.75.

The voters of each of these districts have raised their tax rates in the past decade for the two obvious reasons: inflation and increased population.

THE TAM DISTRICT trustees report their tax roof needs raising (for a detailed discussion of "why" see part three of this League of Women Voters report in tomorrow's Independent-Journal).

"But," the groaning taxpayer asks, "how much will it cost me?"

Answer: If your home is appraised at $10,000, for example, its assessed value is $2,300. If the new tax rate is approved Feb. 17, your tax bill will be increased $1.25 per month, or $14.95 per year.

If your home is appraised at $25,000, it is assessed at $5,750, and your increased costs will be $3.12 a month, or $37.38 a year. And so on.

CAN WE AFFORD to maintain good schools? The question is—can we afford not to?

Can we afford to let a $6,000,000 educational plant deteriorate for lack of maintenance?

Can we afford to lose our top-notch teachers, or make do with an inadequate faculty?

Can we afford to scrimp when our high school graduates are facing stiffer than ever college entrance requirements?

Can we afford to turn out inadequately trained "leaders of tomorrow" in the precarious world of today? Do we dare?

SCHOOL TAX IS about the only tax rate hard-pressed voters can control. But ask yourself if it isn't the one that you can least afford not to support.

Can we afford good schools? It's a fact—not an opinion—that we can have the kind of schools we want, and we'll get the kind we pay for.

(Tomorrow: Does the district really need a tax rate increase?

RELIEF IN A BIG WAY

An ex-convict defrauded the New York City welfare department of $26,000 in relief checks. He operated successfully for 10 years before the law finally caught up with him.

The resourceful pilferer was sentenced to Sing Sing for 4 to 6 years. The judge referred to him as "worse than a man who goes out with a gun and steals."

The records showed that he had operated "malicious, nefarious schemes" under thre different aliases. Besides collecting false checks for himself, he also posed as a "volunteer social worker" and a "housing expert" to fleece hundreds of newcomers to the city.

Those who make a business of cheating others are concentrating more and more on the weak spots in government. They know that those interested in protecting the rights of everybody are few and far between.

God never blesses negligence. As a taxpayer, do something, however small, to correct abuses. They can easily snowball into dangerous proportions when too few take the trouble to strengthen weaknesses.

"Let no man overreach nor circumvent his brother in business: because the Lord is the avenger of all these things."
(Thessalonians 4:6)

Keep us reminded, O Lord, of our obligation to use well the blessings which You entrust to us.

She Swallows Pills For A Living, Testing Tastes For Medicine Men

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Shirley Morabito has tasted 700 medicines in the last three years—and never felt better in her life.

In fact, she hasn't missed work a single day because of illness.

Trying out pills and potions destined for other people is the unusual career of Mrs. Morabito, a medical gourmet with one of the most educated palates in the wonderful world of drugs.

She is chief medicine taster for the Charles Pfizer Pharmaceutical Co.

"It is endlessly fascinating," said Mrs. Morabito. "The taste test is the last step in research. No matter how beneficial a new medicine may be, it has to taste right today to win public acceptance. If peo won't take it because they dislike the taste, it can't do them any good."

There are only four basic tastes—salt, sweet, sour and bitter. But they can be masked with thousands of different blended flavors.

Unfortunately for mankind, most medicines, new or old, have a bitter taste.

The average person can detect a bitter taste in one fifth of an ounce of caffein mixed in a quart of water. Mrs. Morabito can detect the same amount of caffein mixed with 25 quarts of water.

BUT MRS. MORABITO doesn't depend on her own fine palate. What suits one person may not suit another. So she has assembled and trained a test panel of 40 expert coworkers to help her.

The problem of taste in new children's medicines is even more critical. To assist her in field testing these she has a juvenile jury of some 600 children of company employees.

BOTH COLOR AND TASTE play a big role in the psychology of medicine.

"Most everyone seems to dislike a brown-colored medicine," said Mrs. Morabito.

"Older people often like a mint-flavored medicine . . . Children prefer fruit flavors. They like red and orange colors, and they like medicines with a cherry or orange flavor. But the color and taste must match. If you gave them a blue medicine with an orange flavor, they wouldn't like it. It would confuse them."

Proposed FEPC Would Be Given Right To Keep Activities Secret

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Although the Fair Employment Practices Act, (AB 91) sponsored by Gov. Edmund G. Brown, is supposed theoretically to banish discrimination in employment because of race, religious creed, color, national origin, or ancestry, the measure as presented to the state Legislature by an imposing array of assemblymen, apparently does nothing but foment discrimination.

It is a discriminatory bill against employers of the state, who if it passes, will be deprived of one more privilege of free enterprise, the right to hire individuals of their own choosing, thus putting the state of California up another rung on the ladder of Socialism.

THE MEASURE, it may be recalled, was spawned by the Communists back in the early 1930's, when the depression was taking hold. Communist organizers were running rampant throughout the state, working on the unemployed, and calling agricultural strikes wherever opportunity presented itself.

The measure as now presented circumvents the taint of Communism by calling for no discrimination because of "religious creed," instead of creed. Thus, those who follow the Communist creed apparently can't be included in the anti-discrimination measure, as it is questionable if any court would hold that the Communist creed was "religious."

PREVIOUS MEASURES, and they have been before the state legislature for many years, merely carried the word "creed."

Even if the Communists can't get protection in hiring from the measure, it nevertheless provides for a full-fledged Gestapo, which has almost unlimited powers to dictate the hiring practices of the many thousands of employers in California.

And worse yet, these powers are clothed in secrecy.

The measure gives the commission, members of which will receive $13,500 annualy, the authority to investigate alleged discrimination, but the public is to be denied the right to know not only the results of the investigations, but also, the fact that an investigation is under way.

"The members of the commission and its staff shall not disclose," the bill says, "what has transpired in the course of such endeavors."

THIS APPEARS to be a somewhat amazing provision of the law, coming from Governor Brown, who has frequently declared himself in favor of freedom of information, and the people's right to know.

Those who drafted the FEPC bill were careful to eliminate any opposition that might come from religious organizations, having written in a specific exemption to the fact that an 'employer' does not include any religious association or corporation, thus carrying the discrimination against ordinary employers a bit further.

Under the bill, it will not be necessary for the Catholic diocese to hire a Protestant, or for the Presbytery to hire a Catholic. Yet, an ordinary employer is to be told who he must hire, regardless of his personal choice in the matter!

20 YEARS AGO

A monument to Sir Francis Drake, first Englishman to touch California shores when he landed at Drake's Bay in the 16th Century, was decided upon by the San Anselmo post of the American Legion. The huge monolith, with a basin and fountain at the base, was planned for Paper Mill Creek Canyon.

San Anselmo Traffic Suffers From People Just Passing Through

Have you ever noticed that State Highway 17 comes across the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge to the south end of San Rafael's Francisco boulevard and abruptly stops?

Planner James M. Campbell, who is working on a master plan for San Anselmo's future development, told 125 San Anselmo citizens last week that a State Division of Highways master plan shows Highway 17 extended through San Rafael, San Anselmo and Fairfax.

The plan is being studied by the current State Legislature, Campbell said, "and it's up to you and your neighbor cities to sell it to the Legislature."

DESIGNATION OF a State Highway eventually brings with it state funds to widen and improve the road. Campbell indicated that he thought the best route for an expressway would be along the Miracle Mile and out Center boulevard in San Anselmo and Fairfax.

Biggest argument in favor of the state highway designation is the large number of cars going through San Anselmo merely to travel from one point outside its city limits to another point outside its city limits.

Police Chief Donald T. Wood estimates that 65 per cent of the city's traffic is "simply passing through."

A REPORT ON last year's San Anselmo traffic accidents tells much the same story.

Of the 455 drivers involved in accidents, 51 per cent lived outside San Anselmo.

Sir Francis Drake boulevard took the prize as the street with the most intersection accidents. And the evening rush hours proved to be the times most prone to traffic accidents last year. It was pretty much what one would expect with heavy commuter traffic.

TIED IN the San Anselmo's traffic problem is the city's downtown business section which gets traffic that should be diverted outside it, Campbell said.

Anyone arguing that there is plenty of parking in downtown San Anselmo is arguing that the businesses there do only a fraction of what they might do if San Anselmo citizens did all their spending in San Anselmo, Campbell said.

His theory was that every sale made in San Anselmo brings in sales tax money to the city, which in turn helps pay for streets, police and fire protection, and other city services.

If San Anselmo residents go outside San Anselmo to buy, they are draining away money which could help relieve their property taxes, was Campbell's conclusion.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Suggestions For Critic, Editor

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

A recent news article in the I-J headlined the acquisition of more territory by the Belvedere Post Office. The gentleman interviewed me the article typified a few of our present day voters, in his completely distorted view of the question, and in his obvious lack of the correct facts.

I should like to point out the following, for the benefit of the man from Belveron Gardens, who, I am sure, represents only his own views in that area:

The telephone rate determing areas have nothing whatsoever to do with the postal boundaries. A call to his nearest business office of the telephone company will assure him of this.

The City of Belvedere could not be less interested in annexation of ANY territory, and has repeatedly said so.

The postoffice he is served from has nothing whatsoever to do with his tax rate, since this latter is a county matter and the former a Federal organization.

It would appear that this gentleman was about as well informed on his subject as was the editor of the I-J when he wrote a recent editorial on one of the public utilties, and their apparent lack of ambitious workers.

For the gentleman in question I should like to suggest a more frequent attendance at the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council meetings, where the subject of the post office on the peninsula has been under discussion for some three or four years, and for the editor; a subscription to a good editorial feature service.

Cross Filing Drives Out Good Men

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I cannot agree with your two recent editorials concerning crossfiling and the abolition of party endorsements in the primary elections. From my experience in politics, I find that endorsements by semi-official party organizations are brought on by the California crossfiling laws.

Many good candidates are driven from the field because of the high cost of campaigning and the risk that too many candidates from his own party would allow the crossfiler from the other party to take both nominations. After all, the primary is a device to be used by a political party to nominate candidates in lieu of a party convention.

When such a risk is involved, the only other alternative is to pick the candidate that appears best thru a semi-official party convention. Eliminate crossfiling and very probably you will eliminate semi-official conventions which eliminate candidates that do not appear to the convention to be strong enough to win.

Eliminate crossfiling and every candidate is on his own to try to win his own party's nomination in the primary, as the primary laws are intended.

Then in the final election, the best candidates from every party campaigns on his own merits, the members of his own party have had their say in the primary and the electorate as a whole has its say in the final election.

Under the present set-up your newspaper does not hesitate to endorse candidates in the primary, so let's allow all of the people (in groups of individually) to have the same priviledge.

PETER P. KRUG, JR.
Larkspur

(NOTE: No suggestion was ever made that semi-official party groups not endorse candidates. We have pointed out that the groups, like the California Democratic Council and the California Republican Assembly, are assuming official nominating status. We agree with the Democratic legislator who proposes that the name of the party may not be used in the name of an endorsing group.)

Council Delays Decision On Mt. Tam Train

The Mill Valley City Council last night held off approval of a franchise for Manuel Gomez to run a sight-seeing train up Mt. Tamalpais.

Gomez and Gerald E. Montizambert asked the council for a franchise, under the firm name of Tamalvista, Inc., to operate the proposed trackless "elephant train" over Mill Valley streets.

Councilman George W. Blackwell, whose home fronts on the former railroad right of way which the proposed line would use, observed that Gomez' application to the Marin Municipal Water District for permission to use the former roadbed was held up when the directors asked for more detailed information.

WANTS CITY OPINION

Gomez said "The water district first wants an expression from the City of Mill Valley."

Montizambert added, "The directors did not want to appear that they were putting pressure on the city."

Blackwell then insisted that Gomez first supply all details on the proposed plan, including plants for a proposed chalet at the summit.

Gomez said he was conferring with the state Division of Beaches and Parks about the building. Negotiations are also under way with General Motors for equipment, he said.

QUESTION AUTHORITY

Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks, an attorney, said "There is considerable question in my mind that the city has the authority to issue such a franchise," . . . "It is more likely that a system carrying passengers for hire will require permission from the state Public Utilities Commission."

The matter was tabled with instructions to City Atty. Thomas C. Nelson to explore the legal status of such a franchise.

Previously, City Manager A. E. Almcrants had read a letter from the chamber of commerce endorsing the Gomez proposal and asking the city to grant the permit. He also read a protest letter from Dr. and Mrs. Norman E. Freeman.

Marin Teeners To Aid In Heart Fund Drive

Teen-agers of Marin are again proving they can assume responsibility in community service endeavors, Mrs. Wayne Coen, Heart Sunday chairman for Marin County, declared today.

In various areas of Marin where scarcity of volunteer workers will not permit full coverage during the Heart Sunday house-to-house canvass on Feb. 15, aiding the 1959 Heart Fund drive, youth groups have come to the rescue, she said.

In Homestead Valley, under direction of Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Gustafsson, De Molay members will assist.

Members of the Strollers Car Club will cover areas in the San Rafael territory under the direction of Mrs. S. A. Beyer.

Another youth group, the San Rafael Assembly for Rainbow Girls, has pledged support to the Heart drive. Various areas in San Rafael have been assigned the Rainbow Girls by Mrs. Beyer.

Mrs. David Murphy, area chairman in San Rafael, will direct members of the Road Runners Club for coverage of two areas in the San Rafael canvass.

Boy Scout Troop 15 of San Anselmo, headed by Scoutmaster Richard Morgan, will assist in delivering Heart containers to San Anselmo business establishments.

Several students from San Rafael and Sir Francis Drake high schools and College of Marin have assisted in such jobs as envelope stuffing.

Boy Forced To Disrobe At Knifepoint

A 11-year-old Terra Linda boy used a switchblade knife to force a younger boy to disrobe, then threatened the latter with mutilation if "you tell the cops."

This complaint came from a Terra Linda mother. She called the sheriff's office yesterday to report that her 10-year-old son and two other boys were playing south of Freitas Parkway near an old milk barn Monday when three older boys came up. The 11-year-old pointed a knife at the younger boy and forced him to take off his trousers, then threatened him.

Deputy Sheriff George Barnes traced the older boys to their home. Parents of the knife wielder said they would reprimand their son severely.

Closing Of Mexico, U.S. Border Asked

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state Senate was asked yesterday to recommend closure of the U. S.-Mexico border unless Mexico releases Americans held on gambling charges in Tijuana.

The proposal of Sen. Hugo Fisher (D-San Diego) was sent to the rules committee.

His resolution would ask the U. S. State Department to shut off all American travel to Mexico if the accused were not released.

Mexican authorities arrested 43 Americans in a raid on an alleged private gambling club at Rosarito Beach last Jan. 25. About a dozen are still unable to post bail.

Why Did Big Plane Crash? Clues Scanty

NEW YORK (AP)—Why did an ultramodern airliner with 73 persons aboard crash seconds away from its landing strip at La Guardia Field?

Was it mechanical or human failure, from the ground or in the cockpit, that sent the American Airlines turbo-prop plane crashing into the icy waters of the East River shortly before midnight Tuesday?

More than two dozen investigators are seeking the why of the tragedy.

EIGHT SURVIVORS

Only eight known survivors —including the co-pilot, flight engineer and a stewardess— may be able to provide some on-the-spot clues. Twenty-two bodies have been recovered.

The best bet appeared to be the co-pilot, Frank Hlavacek, 33, of Wilmette, Ill. But he lies critically injured in a hospital, thus far unable to be questioned.

Only 4,000 feet from its assigned runway and apparently making a routine landing at more than 100 miles an hour, the craft would have touched down on the strip in about another 30 seconds.

SOME QUESTIONS

Some of the questions:

Was there a mechanical failure in the airliner, one of six sleek, four-engine giant Electras put into service by American just 11 days before? The pilot gave no indication of trouble.

Did the pilot, Capt. Albert H. De Witt, 59, of Decatur, Ill., a veteran of 30 years and seven million miles with American, come in too low? Was it a possible failure of altimeter instruments? De Witt was killed in the crash.

AGE A FACTOR

Was De Witt's age a factor? He was due to be retired next May when he would have reached 60. But he had passed his physical with flying colors.

Was he the victim of a sensory illusion often experienced by pilots coming over water in the dark, causing them to think they are higher than they are?

Joseph O. Fluet, chief safety director for the Civil Aeronautics Board, said the plane was "fairly well aligned with the runway, possibly a bit to the right." Fluet heads a team of 25 investigators.

LITTLE COLORADO CITY BECOMES VALENTINE CENTER OF NATION

LOVELAND, Colo. (AP)—Most of the time, Loveland is a little farm city (pop. 9,000), close to the canyon gateways of the mountains and the sugar beet fields of the high plains.

But at this time of year it becomes Colorado's "Sweetheart Town," and the accent is heavy on hearts and flowers.

Postmaster Fred Brewer says from 75,000 to 80,000 valentines, stamped with Loveland's special Cupid drawing and verse, likely will be mailed before Feb. 14.

A valentine is mailed in an outside wrapper to the Loveland Post Office. A clerk strips off the wrapping, stamps the envelope with the "Sweetheart Town" brand and sends it on its way.

This year's decoration shows the Loveland Cupid in cowboy hat, boots and chaps aiming his bow at a branding iron—an L surrounded by a heart. Between bow and heart is this verse:

"Here is that boy and arrow lad,
"Our mountain buckaroo;
"And from his Loveland stompin' ground,
"A valentine for you."

Philadelphian Named State Mental Chief

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's new director of mental hygiene will be 60-year-old Dr. Daniel Blain of Philadelphia, one of the country's top psychiatrists. He was born in China of missionary parents.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown appointed him yesterday to succeed Dr. Marshall E. Porter in the $22,500-a-year post on March 1. Porter will return to his previous position of deputy director.

The mental hygiene director has charge of the treatment of about 36,000 mentally ill persons in 10 state hospitals, and about 11,000 mentally retarded persons in four institutions.

The department's huge program, expected to cost 116 million dollars next year, includes research, training, and education.

Brown described Blain as "one of the nation's foremost authorities."

"I have talked to Dr. Blain and he has some striking and promising ideas about the department and its work," the governor said.

Wife Accused Of Egging On Mate's Slayer

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Police today charged an attractive 25-year-old widow "needled" her alleged lover to kill her husband and then helped stuff the dead man's body in the trunk of a small auto.

Mrs. Gemma Caruana was booked on suspicion of murder last night after undergoing day-long questioning by police.

Her alleged lover, John C. Neely, 32, an accountant who worked in the same office where Mrs. Caruana was a secretary, yesterday admitted shooting Ronald J. Caruana in the back of the head Jan. 21.

POLIO VICTIM

Neely, crippled by polio and forced to wear a metal brace on his left leg and walk with a cane, said in Dallas, Tex., where he was held as a fugitive, that he had been having a "pretty ardent love affair" with Mrs. Caruana since last August.

Two Los Angeles detectives in Dallas to bring Neely here to face a murder charge were expected to begin the return trip with the suspect today.

DENIES KNOWLEDGE

Chief of Detectives Thad Brown said Mrs. Caruana denied any knowledge of her husband's slaying. But, he said, he doubted that Neely could have managed unaided to put Caruana's body in the trunk of the small foreign-made car.

Neely said Mrs. Caruana was tired of her husband and discussed ways of killing him. He said that several days before the slaying Mrs. Caruana asked him, "How much longer am I going to have to wait?"

NIXON BREAKS 2 RIBS IN SIDEWALK FALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon is nursing two broken ribs, but he's not letting them get him down.

Nixon fell on his back Tuesday night when he slipped on the sleet-covered sidewalk in front of his home.

Nixon said at a reception last night the injury was paining him. But he joked about it and said he had never before had such thoughtful treatment from his daughters, Patricia, 12, and Julie, 9.

Couple Held For Trying To Sell Twin Boys, 8

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—A 24-year-old couple sold the mother's 8-year-old twin boys to a policewoman and juvenile officer for $300 in marked bills, the officers said today.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Stillion gave a bill of sale for the twins to Policewoman Lanny Dixon and Juvenile Officer Robert E. Brumley yesterday. The officers promptly arrested the couple.

The twins are the sons of Mrs. Stillion, a blonde from England.

The Stillions also have two daughters, Nancy, 4, and Tina, 3.

Mrs. Stillion said she and the father of the twins were divorced in England in 1953. She then married Stillion while he was stationed in England with the Air Force, and came to this country with him.

The policewoman said she received a report yesterday that a couple was "trying to give away some children."

Posing as a childless couple, Mrs. Dixon and Brumley traced the Stillions through a description and the report that the mother was a "foreigner."

The officers went to the Stillion home, Mrs. Dixon said, where the mother told her the boys were theirs if "we gave them $500."

Brumley handed Stillion $300 in marked bills. He said Stillion wrote a bill of sale saying he gave full custody of the children to "Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Brumley."

Mrs. Stillion complained, "You would think I had committed the worst crime in the world. I was simply trying to find someone who would adopt the children because we couldn't take care of them."

Deserted By Mother, Boy Takes To Jungle

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An unwanted American boy, who dared the Colombian jungle rather than live on in loneliness, is here on a wistful quest.

Carlos Telmo Lince Jr., 14, not quite an orphan, seeks the only person who can fill the void in his heart: His mother. His search could be hopeless.

He was 7 when Mrs. Carlos T. Lince decided in 1952—one year after they had moved there from Los Angeles—that she could not go on living in Bogota, Colombia.

She disappeared. If she ever sent back word, it never reached Carlos and his sister, Lucia. Lucia, 11, lives with their father, a Colombian airline pilot who has remarried.

Carlos went to a military school in Bogota. Lonely and friendless, he tried repeatedly to get away. The third time he ran away, last July 15, he made it.

He wandered in the tropical wilds. Coconuts and wild berries and vegetables kept him going.

Two weeks later Indians found him in the forests of San Blas Island off the coast of Panama. He lived with them more than three months. They eventually took him to a missionary who turned him over to the American consul in Panama Nov. 8.

CARLOS TELMO LINCE
He wants his mother

Police were told that neither the father nor an aunt in Miami, Fla., want the boy.

"He has never had the friendship and affection he craved," says Roy Aldridge, 28, a policeman in Cristobal, Panama, who brought Carlos to this country recently. "He's intelligent. Given the chance, he could really make something of himself."

An American citizen, Mrs. Lince, now 32, was traced to Lincoln, Neb., but there the trail was lost.

Carlos has a home offered him. Aldridge's stepfather, H. F. Abney of Los Angeles, plans to adopt him if possible.

But the boy, more than anything else, wants to find his mother.

Plane With 12 Aboard Sought At Sea

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—A U.S. Superfortress weather plane and its crew of 12 were missing today and presumed down in the stormy mid-Atlantic.

The big four-engine aircraft had only fuel enough to stay aloft until 3 a.m. today.

The search centered about 300 miles northwest of Bermuda where a Japanese freighter reported it saw a burning plane crash yesterday morning in the Atlantic. Although the freighter said the plane appeared to be a single-engine craft, the four-engine B50 should have been in the general area at the time.

Coast Guard planes and Navy flying boats scanning the area said conditions were foul with 40-mile-an-hour winds, rough seas, and visibility down to 1½ miles.

Names of the 12 men aboard were withheld until next of kin were notified.

The B50 Hurricane Hunter was attached to the 59th Weather Reconnaissance Squadron at Bermuda's Kindley Air Base.

Mix-Up Sends Wrong Body Home For Rites

GAFFNEY, S. C. (AP)—A distraught Gaffney couple waited anxiously today while the Navy and Federal Bureau of Investigation searched for the body of their son, one of three sailors killed in a Florida highway accident. The wrong body was sent home yesterday for burial.

The FBI reported the body received here was that of Lawrence M. Geis of Milwaukee, one of the other victims.

SENT TO WISCONSIN

Roy K. Moore, special agent in charge of the Charlotte, N. C., FBI office, said the body of the Gaffney seaman, Jerry Robert Briskill, 23, may have been sent to Wisconsin in the mixup.

The third sailor killed in the Tuesday accident was identified as Donald L. Tullis, 19, of Racine, Wis.

Both bodies sent to Wisconsin were to arrive late today, but naval authorities indicated they would try to intercept the train carrying the bodies in Chicago.

DIED IN COLLISION

The three sailors were stationed at the Pensacola, Fla., Naval Air Station. They died in a collision of two cars and a truck near the station.

Driskill was to have been buried today. After completing funeral arrangements yesterday Driskill's mother and stepfather, J. Brunson Phillips, entered a funeral home to view the body.

"That's not my Jerry," cried the horror-stricken Mrs. Phillips as she looked down at the form.

Sun Comes Out For Ike's First Day In Georgia

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower's weather luck—all bad at the start of his Southland vacation—turned good today. He went quail hunting under sunny skies.

There still was an overcast when he was having breakfast at the plantation home of his host, former Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey.

But the sun broke through the clouds a bit later.

The weather today was in sharp contrast to that when the President arrived from Washington yesterday after a rough plane ride.

The weather was so bad—drenching rain and dense fog —that the President's private plane had to make an instrument landing at Moody Air Force Base at Valdosta, Ga. The ceiling was about 400 feet —200 more than the minimum safe level—and the ground visibility was about one mile.

U.S. Rockets Could Escape Solar System, Expert Says

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A scientist said today the United States already has rockets powerful enough to blast a small payload clear out of the solar system into interstellar space.

The scientist, Dr. Homer E. Newell Jr. of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, added that the payload, however, "might be a useless little speck" incapable of sending any reports back to earth.

Newell told reporters at a briefing on space missions that existing rockets could shoot "useful payloads" as far as Mars and Venus. He did not, however, claim ability to hit those planets. With present guidance systems, a miss of thousands of miles would be almost inevitable.

Newell, assistant director of the agency for space sciences, gave this summary of initial rocket speeds required for various space missions:

Escape from the earth (into orbit around sun), seven miles a second. This can be done "with present vehicles."

Escape from solar system in direction of earth's motion around sun, 15 miles a second. This would "not be too difficult a job" for existing intercontinental missile engines but the payload would be tiny.

Shooting a payload into the sun, 25.44 miles a second. Impossible with present rockets.

Escape from solar system in direction perpendicular to earth's motion, 39 miles a second. Impossible at present.

Escape from sun in direction opposite to earth's motion, 52 miles a second. Also impossible now.

MOTHER-IN-LAW BARRED FROM THEIR WEDDING—A Pasadena businessman, Louis E. Purmort, 34, and his bride-to-be, Mrs. Barbara Stanley Thorndike, 26, a divorcee, tell newsmen why Purmort obtained a court order in Los Angeles yesterday barring his mother from attending the coming wedding. The son quoted his 68-year-old mother as saying she would kill him rather than see him marry a "blonde divorcee." (AP Wirephoto)

SHE THREATENED MURDER

Son Gets Mother Barred From Attending Wedding

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A wealthy Pasadena manufacturer has obtained a court order that prohibits his mother from attending his marriage next Sunday in suburban San Marino.

Louis E. Purmort, 34, got the injunction after telling the court that his mother, Mrs. Tessie Purmort, 68, had told him she would kill him rather than see him marry Mrs. Barbara Stanley Thorndike, a divorcee. Mrs. Purmort is the wife of George Purmort, 68, retired Milwaukee construction engineer.

The son informed the court that his mother had written his lawyer, blaming Mrs. Thorndike, 26, for breaking up his first marriage. The divorce became final Friday. The former wife, Mrs. Carolyn Frances Purmort, obtained custody of their two children.

"I would rather see you dead than married to Barbara," Purmort quoted his mother. "If you go ahead and get married in church, I'm going to be there and stop this marriage."

Superior Court Judge Ellsworth Meyer ordered Mrs. Purmort to stay away from the wedding, from the wedding reception, and the going-away party. The couple will leave for Hawaii on their honeymoon.

Purmort told the court that his mother's actions have alarmed the parents of his bride-to-be and that they fear for the safety of their daughter. He said his mother had written slanderous letters about him, that her conduct had interfered with his business, upset him emotionally, and that because of her letters and accusations many of his friends had indicated they would not attend the wedding. He said his father is agreeable to the wedding.

Solon Seeks Cheap, Nice Housing For Old Folks

By JAMES C. ANDERSON

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—An effort to give California's 1,200,000 old folks a nice place to live at little cost to the taxpayer was under way today in the Legislature.

The program has the backing of one of the most influential men in the capitol—Sen. Hugh Burns (D-Fresno), president pro tempore of the upper house.

Never known as a spendthrift in his 24-year career in the Legislature, Burns is convinced the state can finance a program of building comfortable and pleasant housing for needy and low-income oldsters without cost to the state or without putting the state in the housing business.

Burns' idea, already approved by a five-man Senate committee, is to set up a bond fund similar to the very successful state veterans' farm and home loan program.

The veterans' program, started right after the end of World War I, never has cost the state a dime. It is a self-liquidating program in which eligible veterans can get low-interest-rate loans to build or buy a farm or home.

"This is an effort to do something for maw and paw," Burns said. "So far, the state has shamefully neglected the old folks. We all say we honor and respect our elders. If we mean it, then we should help them solve their most critical problem—housing."

Burns' idea is that an elderly person of limited financial resources, through a private contractor or builder, could buy or build a small home and finance it through bond funds.

The senator's able committee consultant, Barbara Rosien of Los Angeles, estimated that a 50-year loan at the going rate of state interest, plus one-half of 1 per cent, would average out to payments of about $36.50 a month.

If the person who got the original loan died, the house could only be sold or the mortgage assumed by another eligible old age pensioner or elderly person of limited means.

The Burns program also envisions making state bond loans to limited dividend housing corporations, private nonprofit corporations and local housing authorities.

As the senator and Miss Rosien see it, planned communities with adequate recreational and medical facilities and markets close by, could be built under such a program.

Burns admits there are many problems to be solved before the program could take effect.

For one thing, cities and counties would have to make wholesale revisions in their zoning ordinances which in many cases now bar the construction or operation of decent housing for the aged.

To make the program financially feasible, legislation would be needed to make projects constructed by private non-profit corporations or local housing agencies exempt from all taxes and special assessments.

To keep wraps on the program, the senator plans to introduce bills establishing strict eligibility requirements. Burns' idea is that the housing should be available only to persons 65 or over who are in low-income or middle-income brackets and who have been long-time residents of California.

Both New York and Massachusetts have programs somewhat similar to that proposed by Burns and his interim committee on housing and recreational needs of the elderly. But it has never been attempted in California.

Burns said legislation to carry out the program is being prepared and will be introduced in the senate within three or four weeks.

Y Member Drive Signs Up 168

First report on the current membership drive of Marin's Young Men's Christian Assn. showed 168 parents of its 500 participating youngsters had paid annual memberships of $10 or more.

At this same time last year, only 150 parents were members. This year's YMCA membership enrollment is encouraging, reported Don C. Brodie to a Tuesday evening meeting of area chairmen and workers in the membership drive.

One of the workers, Frank Gaffney, was the first to turn in a complete report on his area after only one week of the drive.

Baseball Stars To Golf In Marin Knee-Ball 'Classic' Set Saturday

Joe "Falstaff" DeMaestri, who is a beer baron in the winter and Kansas City baseball star in the summer, is planning to host a baseball players' golf tournament at the Marin Golf Club.

Joe's busy contacting stars in the Bay Area for the first annual event and eventually hopes to build it into a big attraction.

Incidentally, while speaking at the Construction Industries Council of Marin the other night, DeMaestri told the audience about his first major league hit back in 1951, when he broke in with the Chicago White Sox.

After months of sitting on the bench, DeMaestri finally was called on as a pinch-hitter against Boston and promptly rifled a line shot against the left field fence.

It was a sure double, but Joe didn't quite make it to second. Due partly to nervousness and the fact his legs weren't in the best shape due to inactivity, the shortstop fell flat on his face between first and second.

Red Sox second sacker Bobby Doerr, who had the relay from left field, ran up to Joe and asked: "You hurt, Joe?" The embarrassed DeMaestri replied, "No."

"Then," dead-panned Doerr, "you're out."

WE HAVE before us a Meadow Club scorecard, but it really resembles a bowling score.

The participants in a recent match were Warren Wedekind, the Marin constractor, and Julian Leone, I-J circulation manager.

Wedekind fired a cool 131 while Julie had a fabulous 140.

And you think you're a hacker?

TWO MARIN COUNTY players will be picked on the West Squad for the San Francisco 20-30 Club's annual East-West High School football class next summer, according to Don Acton, president of the sponsoring organization.

In the past only San Francisco and East Bay players were selected.

Probable choices from Marin are San Rafael end Ron Snidow and Novato quarterback Jack Sparrow, who already have been picked to play in the North-South classic in L.A. next August.

LAST WEEK we told you about a new game called "Knee-Ball," which is merely football played on your knees. We also jokingly mentioned that we were going to form a team.

Well, the ink was still wet on the paper when the phone jangled and the callers challenged us to a game.

They are Ken Corsiglia and Gordon Tovani of Kentfield, who said they would get together a six-man team and meet us at the College of Marin football field this Saturday at 1 p.m.

Since it was too late to back out, we had to go through with the idea and accept the challenge.

The classic will take place, although we admit it was tough getting five other guys to round out our six-man team. "Are you nuts?" they asked. "Who ever heard of playing football on your knees."

Well, it took a lot of explaining, but finally they agreed. The balance of our team is Joe Sullivan, a San Francisco fireman, who will play left-end-tackle-guard; Jack McDonough, a PT&T exec, who will be center; I'll be right-end-tackle-guard; and in the backfield will be halfbacks Rich and Bob Nave of the Redwood Music Co. and Tom McGrath of Novato at full.

Besides Tovani and Corsiglia, the opposition will include Les Williams, Norm Travis, Frank Lucas and Al Carr.

Officials will be James Baxter and Joseph Ferriter.

The game will be played on a 50-by-15-yard field.

In case anyone drops by to watch this knee-ball classic, they will be asked to contribute to the March of Dimes.

S.F. CONTRACT TROUBLES

Spencer, Worthington Still Unsigned; Seek More Pay

Three more San Francisco Giants have signed for 1959, but a pair from whom Manager Bill Rigney expects much are far from satisfied with their offers.

Unsigned pacts offered infielder Daryl Spencer and pitcher Al Worthington probably will be dumped in the Giants' office today.

Each said he is worth more than offered, but neither would give any figures—past, offered or sought.

Signed were outfielders Willie Kirkland and Leon Wagner and third baseman Ray Jablonski. That hiked the Giants' autograph collection to 24. And Rookie of the Year 1958 Orlando Cepeda said he had mailed his in Puerto Rico for No. 25.

In Birmingham, Worthington told The Associated Press "Of course I think I'm worth more" money than offered. He is not a holdout. He hopes to reach an agreement soon, explaining "We just haven't got together."

Last year, Worthington appeared in 54 games, chiefly as a reliever, and finished with an 11-7 won-lost mark and 3.64 earned run average.

In Wichita, Kas., Spencer, a 29-year-old veteran, said "They offered me a small raise, but it wasn't enough."

He played last season at shortstop, opening with heavy hitting and finishing with a season average of .256, the highest of his four full campaigns with the Giants. He had 74 runs batted in and 17 homers.

Rigney has said he would move Spencer to second base to try rookie Andre Rodgers at shortstop. Daryl indicated no complaint about the move.

"It doesn't make much difference where you play, just so you're playing," he asserted.

The infielder has been asked to report Feb. 17 for an early clinic session preceding opening of formal practice a week later. "I suppose that's because I'll be playing at second," he commented.

Rodgers also will be reporting Feb. 17.

Spencer indicated confidence that he and the Giants can get together on terms.

Jablonski stood out as a pinch hitter in 1958 while both Wagner and Kirkland broke in as hard hitting outfielders.

Leon batted .317 in 74 games with 9 doubles and 13 triples. Kirkland hit .258 in 122 games with 25 doubles, 6 triples and 14 home runs. He could be the only left-handed hitter in the Giants' batting order.

Chris Beats Aussie Mark

BRISBANE (AP) — Christine von Saltaza, 14-year-old swimmer from Los Gatos, Calif., bettered the Australian record for the 200-meter backstroke today in her first competition in this country.

Her time of 2 minutes, 39.7 seconds bettered the old Australian record of 2:43. Miss Saltza finished 2.4 seconds ahead of Ann Nelson of Australia. The California swimmer set a world record of 2:37.4 in the U. S. National AAU meet last summer.

Ilsa Konrads, Australia's swim sensation, won the 400-meter freestyle by 10 yards over Sylvia Ruuska of Berkeley, Calif. Miss Konrads' time of 4 minutes, 54.8 seconds was 6.2 seconds slower than her existing record. Miss Ruuska's time in the 50 meter pool was 5:00.7.

Report Trout Limit May Be Reduced To 10

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—California's Fish and Game Commission will recommend a reduction in trout limits—from 15 to 10 fish—for the southern two-thirds of the state when it meets next week.

The Commission must announce its "determinations" for 1959 angling seasons, limits and regulations at least 15 days in advance of the meeting at which it adopts the regulations finally. That meeting is scheduled for Feb. 27, which means the determinations have to be announced Feb. 11.

The determinations of the Commission may be argued at the final meeting.

The Capitol News Service learned the Commission will propose to lower the trout limit by five fish for all of the state south of U. S. Highway 40 or 50—with that detail to be worked out before Feb. 11.

The proposal is being made on the theory that much of the fishing north of the line from San Francisco-to-Sacramento-to-Lake Tahoe is in waters that produce native fish. If adopted, the Department would be instructed to confine most of its planting of the expensive catchable trout to areas within the 10-fish-limit boundaries.

The trout limit question has been up in the air for several years. In 1956, the Commission announced a determination to reduce the limit to 10 fish statewide. However, this position was changed at the final meeting, due to a storm of objections.

Most of the objections are that persons fishing remote lakes and streams object to being penalized—in the way of a lower limit—for the planting of catchable trout in the more accessible streams. Proposals to set limits according to the streams where catchables have been planted have been brushed aside by the Department as impossible to enforce.

Few other major changes in regulations are expected when the Commission makes its announcements Feb. 11, or when it meets Feb. 27.

EXCHANGING BLOWS — Del Flanagan (left), St. Paul, Minn., lands a right uppercut to the mouth of Ralph Dupas, New Orleans, La., who countered with an apparent low blow during the ninth round of their 10-round non-title welterweight fight last night. WILLIE'S HOME, EXPECTS SOME NIGHT DUTY

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco Giants outfielder Willie Mays flew home from New York yesterday and said he would be available at night to feed his 16-day-old adopted son.

The slugger, who recently signed an $80,000 contract, was asked by a newsman:

"Do you prefer square or three-cornered diapers?"

Mays looked puzzled, then broke into laughter, answering, "That's not my department . . . I'm just a ball player."

Willie and his wife, Marghuerite, adopted Michael Rosiny earlier this week.

Controversial Video Bout Won By Flanagan

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Del Flanagan's flair for setting off controversies pushed him into the middle of another dispute today.

The St. Paul welterweight gained a decision over New Orleans' Ralph Dupas in a televised 10-rounder last night, but some people weren't convinced.

One of them was Jimmy Perrault, whose judge's scorecard had Dupas winning. Referee Johnny Stanton and Judge Dick Delaney scored it Flanagan.

"This is the worst," said Dupas' manager, Angelo Dundee, "sometimes you expect to get hurt on a hometown decision but you can live with it when the fight has been close. This one was Dupas from start to finish."

Dupas added: "How do they score fights here? I threw four punches to one, I was on the offense all the way, Flanagan didn't do much fighting, and they give him the decision."

A TOSSUP

It could have gone either way, but it did not appear to be a gift. Flanagan fought strongly through the early rounds, lost momentum in the face of Dupas' fast-moving attack through the seventh, eighth and ninth rounds, but won the 10th on superior physical strength.

The Associated Press scored the fight 97-96 for Flanagan.

Newsmen at ringside were almost evenly divided.

There were low blows aplenty on both sides.

"Flanagan landed the harder, stronger punches although Dupas threw more," said Stanton. "That was the story of the fight."

Stanton scored it 97-95, Delaney 98-95 and Perrault 97-96 for Dupas.

Flanagan weighed in at 148 pounds, Dupas 142.

"I got sluggish after the middle rounds," Flanagan said. "I had to dry out for a long time to make weight, and I think it weakened me." Dupas, seven years younger than Flanagan, was the fastest opponent the St. Paul Irishman has faced in years.

"He certainly could lick 90 per cent of the welterweights around," Flanagan said.

Dupas was rated No. 3 in the National Boxing Assn. ratings, Flanagan No. 4.

Skippers Headed For L.A. Regatta; Top Honor Presented To Oaklander

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA skippers of 110 class sloops, Snipes and Thistles will start the 1959 season by trailing their boats to southern California for the huge Los Angeles Mid-Winter Regatta, to be held Feb. 21-22-23.

Representatives of the three active fleets met recently and agreed upon a schedule of preseason races during March and April, to be sponsored in turn by each of the classes. Snipes will host March 1 on the Oakland Estuary and April 12 at Richmond. Thistles have reserved March 8 at Palo Alto, and the 110 fleet will sponsor races off Corinthian Y.C. March 22. In addition the Thistles and 110s will race each other off St. Francis Y.C. on April 19, at the courtesy of the Star boat fleet, who will have their own traditional four race series each Sunday in April.

The 110 sailors will be racing during the regular season for the right to represent the Bay Area in their class International Championships, to be held in August of this year. Class members have agreed that only Small Boat Racing Assn. and Small Yacht Racing Assn. races held after college closes for the summer early in June will be counted in determining the top three in each of the two northern California fleets. This will give the students among the skippers an equal chance. Bill Moore of Belvedere, 1958 champion, will be a leading contender. Blair Francis, of Tiburon, who has been a star helmsman for the University of California at Santa Barbara in recent Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Championship regattas, will be very much in the running. Other top young skippers from Marin County and Corinthian Y.C. are Mike and Pete Figour and Grant Willson.

A "race-cruise" to Vallejo Saturday, May 9, is also on the 110 calendar. This is the same day the Yacht Racing Assn. fleet makes its annual trek. Ralph Gelkin is 110 fleet captain.

THE VALUED Blue Water Award was presented to Dr. William Holcomb, of Oakland, at ceremonies at the New York Y.C. last week. The Cruising Club of America award was presented to Holcomb by NYYC Commodore Henry Du Pont for the four-year around the world voyage he made aboard his 50-foot schooner, Landfall II. Dr. Holcomb was the 30th person and 13th American to be honored with the award during its 30-year history.

DIRECTORS of the San Francisco Y.C. were seeking some way to commemorate the 90th anniversary of the Belvedere club, which was founded in 1869. Past Commodore Jake Wosser suggested the theme, "Our Gay Ninety Years." Commodore Paul De Silva set aside June 13 for the celebration. A costume party with a Barbary Coast flavor will climax the festivities.

Marin Angler Claims Record Silver Salmon

A 22-pound silver salmon caught Jan. 3 by a Fairfax fisherman has been verified as a California record and will be officially entered in state fishing record books at Sacramento it was revealed today.

The fish, which measured 38½ inches in length, was caught by Milton Hain at the Papermill Creek tidewaters below Inverness and weighed 3½ pounds more than the previous recordholder, according to Game Warden Al Giddings.

Hain weighed in his prize catch at the Grandi Hardware Store, Pt. Reyes Station, and had it notarized by Mrs. Josephine Morton of that community. Witnesses were Giddings and Buzz Muscio, manager of the Grandi store.

The fish was verified as a female silver salmon by Willis Evans, supervisor of inland fisheries, Department of Fish and Game, Region 3.

In catching the record fish, Hain used a Harnell spinning rod, a Swiss spinning reel and a 6-pound test monofilament with a "spinnie daredevil" as a lure.

Hain, a physical education major at San Francisco State College, said he has entered the fish in this year's Field and Stream Magazine contest. "He has a good chance of winning," said Giddings.

Stengel Out Of Line In Blasting Top Stars Like Mantle And Ford

CONNOLLY

There would appear to be something more than meets the casual eye in the recent outburst of Casey Stengel, N.Y. Yankee manager, concerning the conduct of his star players.

It is quite possible that the cagey old skipper is thinking along "inner office lines" instead of minding his own business as field manager.

Stengel points out, from his throne, that a couple of Yankee players ought to be making $125,000, if they only knew the difference between midnight and noon.

Coming from Stengel, who has always been regarded as one of the real clown princes of baseball, it just doesn't make sense. The dodding old guy blew a tire, gasket, or fuse when he was quoted that way.

In every field of endeavor, when a fellow's contract expires, and he isn't satisfied with the new one, he usually can go across the hall and go to work for somebody else.

THAT IS a sacred privilege granted all workers, be they professional athletes or bookkeepers.

But in professional, or shall we say organized baseball, it is quite the opposite.

Stengel, by his untimely remarks may be trying to force the issue by bringing bad spots before the players' eyes. He is, in other words, trying to support the business manager. instead of the fellows who have made it possible for Stengel to make an unheard of managerial salary while taking orders from a front office guy.

The two players Stengel had in mind, so it is reported, were Mickey Mantle and Whitey Ford, star outfilder and home run hitter, and a 20-game winning pitcher, respectively.

STENGEL IS earning, as a bench manager, more money than either Mantle or Ford. And I ask you, does he deserve it?

Tom Drum, the blind man, could do as well with the Yankee outfit as Stengel or any other so-called manager.

He has a pitching coach to advise him what pitcher to start, and what pitcher to relieve.

He has coaches on first and third base to tell the Yankee base-runners to keep on coming or hold up.

So whatinhell does Stengel do to earn close to $100,000 a year, and then pop off about players conduct when he knows those men are angling to get a pay raise?

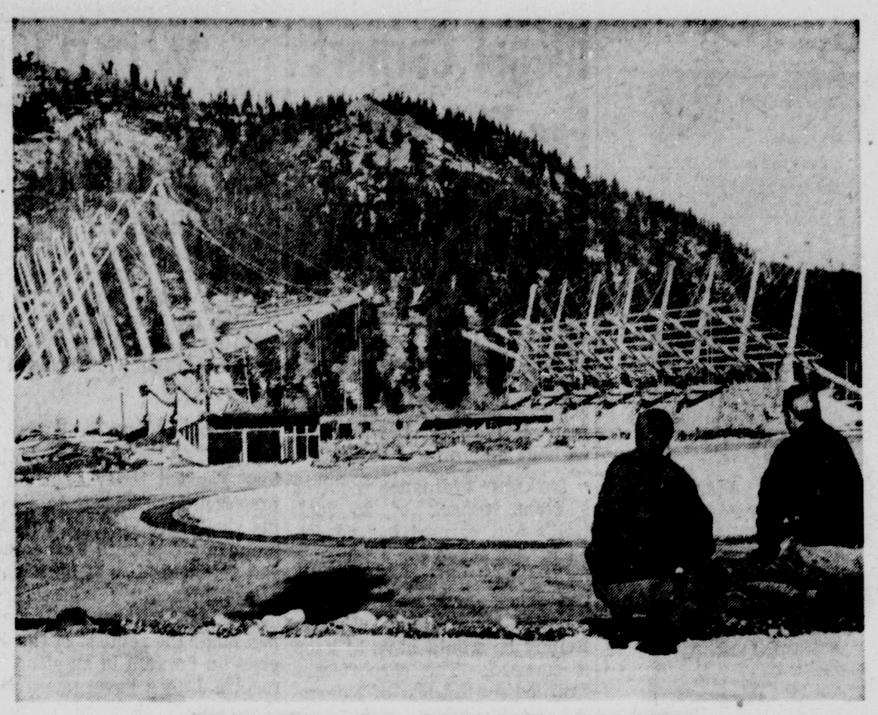
To me Casey Stengel has made the biggest joke of himself as a thinker than he ever did while playing as an outfielder with a club often known as the screwiest club in the majors.

MANAGING a ball club on the field is enough for Stengel at his age without trying to tell the players what salaries they should be getting or criticizing them during the contract season.

Players like Mantle and Ford, giving their best all the time, may have been instrumental in making Stengel look important.

But by the same token those same two players can, if they choose, make Stengel look pretty bad. I hope the ball players never get so silly that they'll allow a popoffskee manager to warp their baseball manners.

You have to admit it that Casey Stengel asked for it and may get it before the curtain is rung down on the 1959 season.



PREVIEW OF SQUAW VALLEY

Record-Breaking Marin Car Entered In Oakland Show

A speedy competition sedan owned jointly by two young San Rafael men today was entered in the 10th annual National Roadster Show to be held Feb. 14-22 in the Oakland Exposition Building.

The San Rafael owners are John Ryan, 24, and Doug Noren 21. Both have been building and racing cars since their early teens.

More than 125 other "personalized" automotive creations will be on display during the nine-day run of the Oakland event, according to Manager Mary L. Slonaker. More than 60 awards will be given in 19 different show classifications.

Ryan and Doren constructed their car from a 1928 Model "A" two-door sedan, fitting it to hold either a Chrysler or Chevrolet engine.

It is a "B" competition record holder with both engines, having turned 110.09 mph with an elapsed time of 12.24 seconds on both the Oldsmobile engine and 122.86 mph with an elapsed time of 11.21 seconds on the Chrysler engine.

The car has never been defeated in its class or in the Little Eliminator runs, according to Ryan and Doren.

It was a trophy winner in the competition sedan class at the San Mateo show this year.

Doors for the Oakland event will be open from 1 to 10 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays and from 6 to 10 p.m. weekdays. The 1959 run ends on George Washington's birthday.

Awards range up to a $5,000, nine-foot loving cup, said to be the largest trophy in the world.

Marin Catholic '5' Upsets Redwood Giants, 48 To 41

Marin Catholic's Wildcats defeated the Redwood Giants, 48-41 yesterday in a mild upset at the Redwood gym in their non-league basketball encounter.

Marin, in avenging an earlier loss to the Giants, led all the way, except for a brief period in the first quarter. However, Redwood made it close until the final four minutes when Marin turned on an eight-point spree to win going away.

Wildcat center Art Quinn, who scored two key buckets during the final spurt, led all scoring with 13 markers while teammates Ron Blum and Jim Soden collected 11 and 10 respectively. Redwood's scorers were led by Ernie Bray with 10 and Kent Rossi with 8.

After Redwood grabbed a two-point lead early in the first stanza, Marin bounced back in front to stay, leading 11-8 at the end of the quarter, thanks to three quick points by Co Skinner.

Soden scored all of his 10 points in the second period to spark the Wildcats to a 23-20 edge at intermission.

Redwood came within a point, 33-32 late in the third quarter, but Quinn and Blum scored field goals to give Marin a 37-32 lead starting the fourth quarter.

Although Redwood closed the gap to 37-39 midway through the final period, Marin erased all doubts with its eight-point rally down the home stretch.

In the preliminary game Marin's junior varsity downed the Redwood B team, 32-21.

Illegal Carport For Fire Truck Poses Problem

A county fire warden named Lorin A. Hall posed a big problem last night for the Larkspur City Council, consisting of one county fire truck, one carport in front of his house at 60 Diane lane and one other fact: Hall built the carport without obtaining a variance.

Larkspur ordinance requires a front setback of 25 feet. Hall's new carport has no setback. He asked for a variance in October when he first got the truck and was told by County Fire Chief Charles Reilley he would have to keep it covered. The carport was finished by the last of November, Hall said.

TRUCK TOO WIDE

Hall said it was impossible to build the shelter behind his house because the truck is four inches too wide to pass by either side of his Heather Gardens house.

"If I lose the carport, then I lose the fire truck. I'll sell my house and move out of town. Unless I'm able to keep the truck covered I'll have to go back to Woodacre," declared Hall.

Councilman Paul W. Cane said, "I think it's the county's responsibility to see that its equipment is housed."

Councilman H. H. (Steve) Wheeler observed, "If we have an ordinance that isn't enforced, it's a joke . . . He built the carport without authorization to build it. The rebels have taken over, so what are we going to do?"

CITY PROPERTY

Mayor Daniel Allen suggested making available some property near the Larkspur pumping plant, approximately a block from Hall's house.

At Councilman Cane's suggestion, decision was postponed until March 3 to look into Mayor Allen's proposed solution.

Early in the discussion City Manager Ronald E. Piper said, "I think Mr. Hall very well understood that if the variance was not granted he would have to take down the carport."

Franco Rivals Freed

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco's police let three leading monarchist critics of his regime go home last night after grilling them for five hours.

The three men are leaders of the growing Spanish Union, whose members last week stepped up their agitation for restoration of the monarchy and an end to Franco's regime.

The director of public security said the three had been questioned at police headquarters but not formally arrested. No charges were placed against them.

Film Nudes A Must

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Nude bathing scenes are a must in Swedish-produced movies if they are to be sold to Latin American distributors, a Swedish director said today.

Director Rolf Husberg said South American film distributors refused to buy the film "Laila" unless a few scenes with nude girls were added. The film is a story of love among the Lapplanders and was shot in the snowy wastes of the Arctic Circle.

The demand was met. The export version of the picture will show four girls running around nude in the snow. They take a snow bath to cool off after bathing in a sauna, the Scandinavian steambath.

Poison Label Asked

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Taking his cue from South Dakota, a Utah lawmaker has come up with a bill to place the skull and crossbones on all tobacco products sold in this state.

The measure would add the legend, "Contents of this package contain poisonous ingredients."

Peterson, a nonsmoker, said he had modeled the bill after one passed recently by South Dakota's Senate.

But whether the singer and the 36-year-old British beauty will stage a sequel to their romantic interlude in England last fall remains to be seen.

"No comment," said Lady Beaty when she arrived here yesterday and checked into a hotel for a week's stay. "No comment," echoed Sinatra, whose home is a short distance away.

The American-born Lady Beatty was divorced a year ago by 53-year-old Earl Beatty. She and Sinatra were constant companions at London social functions last fall.

SAN MARINO (AP)—For years one of the familiar sights in the neighborhood was John W. Craig and his boxer dog taking a walk.

Six weeks ago the 13-year-old dog, Danke Schoen, was found to be incurably ill with cancer and a veterinary put him to death.

Yesterday Craig, 84, was found dead in the cottage where he had lived alone. There was a bullet wound in his head and a revolver by his hand. No notes were found.

New Balloon Test Set

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP) — A group of scientists planned to release a huge balloon today in an attempt to set a world's altitude record for unmanned balloons. The present record is 142,000 feet.

Today's release of a three-million cubic foot balloon will be the second in a series of experiments to probe and measure cosmic ray intensities and composition of atmospheric particles at different phases of solar activity, Dr. Frank McDonald of the University of Iowa said.

McDonald said the first experiment yesterday was successful. In it a balloon of 1½-million cubic feet soared to an altitude of 122,000 feet. The balloon radios back data.

MALIBU BEACH (AP)—A drunk driving arrest cost actor Barry Sullivan $263.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Bob Hope will be taking things easy for a while under orders from his doctor.

The 54-year-old comedian has a blood clot in his left eye, causing blurred vision.

Hope's doctor said yesterday rest and treatment should bring improvement. All other tests show Hope to be in good shape, he said.

On the doctor's advice, Hope canceled a charity show appearance scheduled for tonight in Miami.

Actor Faces Trial

SANTA MONICA (AP)—Actor Jay Robinson will go on trial March 23 on four counts of possessing and selling narcotics.

Robinson, 28, pleaded innocent yesterday. He is at liberty on $5,000 bond.

Session To Discuss Cemetery Dispute

Directors of the Loma Verde Improvement Assn., who have vowed to oppose a cemetery proposed for 200 acres near their homes, tonight will meet with the project's promoters at Rickey's Rancho Rafael in Ignacio.

William Vandergriff, president of the association, said he had been told only that there was to be "something new" presented. The meeting has been called by Betty Barner, project director for Lundberg, Armet and Davis of Los Angeles. She declined to discuss its subject.

Vandergriff said association members are continuing to circulate petitions throughout Loma Verde calling for opposition to the project.

"We hope to have the petitions completed by Saturday night," Vandergriff said. They will then be presented to various home owner groups in North Marin and to North Marin representatives of the county planning commission and board of supervisors, he said.

Mill Valley To Help Pay For Youth Program

The Mill Valley City Council last night took a first cautious step toward official participation in the community's teen-age program. The council agreed by 3-1 vote, with Joseph E. Sheeks dissenting, to appropraite $25 per month through June toward the salary of teen-age program director Donald L. Pettit.

Sheeks said that as a matter of principle, he felt the funds would better be devoted to educational development.

Councilman Peter H. Behr was absent.

ASSISTANCE ASKED

The request for assistance came through Dr. P. R. Danford, chairman of the parents' group of the Mill Valley Teen-Age Council. He asked for $50 per month, pointing out that the Mill Valley Rotary Club had agreed to pay only the first month's salary of the program now in progress.

He said dances and other activities are open to youngsters from the 7th through 12th grades.

Councilman George W. Blackwell contended that improvement clubs outside the city but in the area of the program should assist in the cost. Mrs. Charles F. Berry, also in the parents' group, said the majority of chairmen and committee heads were in fact from outside areas.

NO CITY CONTROL

Councilwoman Elizabeth Rodman reminded that the city was already helping the program by making the clubhouse available, but added: "I feel this is an excellent program, but I am bothered by seeing the city pay a director for work not under city control."

After consultation with city atty. Thomas C. Nelson, Mrs. Rodman moved that the city "hire" Pettit for $25 per month with his program "supervised" by the city parks and recreation commission.

BOLSA AVENUE

The council also heard a group of Bolsa avenue residents, armed with a protest petition, object to assessment proceedings for improving the street.

City Manager A. E. Almcrants read the list of names, claimed to represent 68 per cent of the property involved. This would automatically stop the proceedings, according to Eugene Sturgis, assessment district attorney, who was present at the meeting.

Bolsa avenue, one of the city's narrow hillside streets, has never been accepted by the city for maintenance and has proved troublesome during storms. Proponents of the improvement program said it has also reached a point where erosion has exposed and broken sewers.

COST ESTIMATE

City Engineer Albert H. Siemer testified the job to cost $30,000, or somewhat less with changes in specifications.

Lawrence Jordan, speaking for the protestants, said the property owners were not interested in such an expensive undertaking. Robert G. Heim, an advocate of the improvement, indicated that he and others might be willing to undertake more than their normal assessment to get the work accomplished.

The council deferred the matter until the March 4 meeting to determine whether Heim can work out some solution. Otherwise, according to Mayor Robert D. Huber, the petition would kill the entire plan.

OTHER ACTIONS

The Mill Valley council also:

1. Deferred until the Feb. 18 meeting approval of an agreement with Jacques Nadler as caterer-custodian of the golf club, pending revisions to the proposed contract.
2. Approved a request that the county planning commission coordinate small craft harbor plans and progress in the Richardson Bay area so Mill Valley's plans will be included in the over-all program.
3. Instructed City Attorney Nelson to proceed with steps to acquire two acres of tideland at the head of Saucelito Canal to provide direct access to clear water over city property.
4. Approved a request by Library Board President Robert Jenkins for $3,500 for a new lighting system for the library, "subject to the availability of funds." Almcrants indicated funds may be available from sales tax revenues.
5. Approved payment of warrants totalling $17,270.98.

ORIENTATION COURSE

Hamilton Wives Told How They Fit In AF

By BETSY M. WOODMAN

More than three score Hamilton Air Force Base husbands were left with the kids and dishes one night recently as their wives attended the first portion of a two-part orientation course. The 68 women gathered in the Riviera Room of the Service Club to hear the facts of Air Force life.

For three hours, speakers gave general and specific information to the women to help them understand their role in the mission of the Air Force: How to be a "sharp" Air Force wife, be "hep" to benefits, and be efficient in times of emergency.

LEMAY'S IDEA

The orientation course, similar to ones held on nearly all Air Force bases for the last two or three years, was the outgrowth of a project begun by Gen. Curtis LeMay when he headed the Strategic Air Command. The mission of SAC requires its men to go on frequent tours of temporary duty away from their families. Their wives were discontented and felt excluded. It was arranged to show the wives the different jobs performed by the men, and how they fitted into the whole.

The Hamilton course is directed by the Family Service Center, headed by Capt. Mina Costin. Volunteers aid the program, and the Base Thrift Shop picked up the tab for nursery care for children of mothers who attended.

POPULATION PROBLEM

Besides hearing details of facilities on the base, the wives learned that Hamilton, originally designed to support 2,500 persons, now faces problems connected with supporting approximately 17,000; that the Chaplain's activities include as full and active a program as could be found in the home town church; that legal assistance is available for such tasks as arranging power of attorney or preparing wills; that benefits due service dependents require keeping certain forms and records up to date.

It was explained that promotion boards consider many things besides job training, even including a man's participation in community affairs. Further education in his off-duty time helps a man move ahead. The wives were encourged not only to help their husbands continue in the field of general knowledge with the guidance of the base education office, but to take courses with the men.

INDIVIDUAL CONSIDERED

The discussion of servicemen's finances revealed how the needs of the individual are more and more a consideration in the Air Force today. A man may choose from many methods the way to receive and allot his pay. Special arrangements can be made for straightened circumstances. If pay day comes when the family is on the road, the husband may present his pay record and travel orders and be paid at any military establishment.

On the second day of the course the wives were given a dramatic explanation of the mission of the 28th Air Division, defense headquarters for this part of the West Coast. They were taken on a tour of the division's control center.

FINAL FEATURE

The final feature of the course was a film, "New Sound of Freedom," demonstrating U.S. air defense.

In a closing ceremony the wives were given "Certificates of Training" by Maj. Gerald M. Hayes, Hamilton personnel services officer. Among the "graduates" was Major Hayes' wife, and the bride of the commander of the 78th Air Base Group, Col. Paulett Spivey, whose signature made the awards official.

Although only a piece of paper with fancy lettering, the diploma given each wife represents knowledge and understanding of a tremendous undertaking. It helps her do her part.

Travelogue In Dance At San Rafael Club

A graceful and skillful trio, The Balladines, presented Tuesday's program at San Rafael Improvement Club. In "A Travelogue in Dance" members and guests were entertained with dances of many lands. The Balladines had been billed as a duo but when the danseuse, Carol, left for the north to fulfill an engagement, Bert Balladine, the leader and master of ceremonies, put Angene in her place, and made it a trio with his cousin, Gregg.

Gregg and Angene presented the first half of the program which included "Masquerade," a classical pas de deux by Delibes and a comedy number, "Circus Romance" by Smetana, with Angene as the tightrope walker and Gregg as the strong man. A solo by Angene was a moody number, "Prelude," by Delibes. In contrast was the lively Mazurka from "Coppelia" by Delibes which Gregg danced. Angene was graceful and lovely in Strauss' "Fruehlingswalzer." The program was concluded with Bert and Angene in "Jota," a Spanish dance by Jiminez and "Tarantella," an Italian dance by Balsamo.

Marjorie Elworthy Young, who played the piano accompaniment for the dancers, also entertained with two classical numbers.

Mrs. Lawrence A. Cowen, club president, presided at the meeting and introduced the artists. Welcomed into the club was Mrs. C. W. Zumwalt. Announcement was made of several club events. The club is being featured at the "Focus Luncheon" at Rickey's Rancho Rafael on Feb. 17. The club will have a luncheon and card party on Feb. 24 with Mrs. Fred Meyer the chairman, assisted by Mesdames Thomas C. Geary and S. W. Kramer. The annual rummage will take place at the clubhouse on Saturday, March 21, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Tacchi and Mrs. Norris Rawles.

A tea under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ralph Holchester followed the program. On her committee were Mesdames Carlo Caletti, Robert Rich, Peter Bisaro, Robert Wylie, Earl Burns and Millard Young.

Presiding at the tea tables, which had been decorated with red hearts and daphne by Mrs. Donald Murray, were Mesdames Bert Dickerson, Charles Marcus, George Pearce and Miss Georgia Wintringham.

AT RICKEY'S

300 Bay Area Women Go On 'Journey With Koret' Tuesday

In a gay vacation mood, more than 300 Bay Area women enjoyed a mid-winter jaunt "Cross Country With Koret" while happily relaxed around a luncheon table Tuesday at Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

Luring them to ports of call in "Designs for Young Living", the 1959 summer collection of San Francisco designer Stephanie Koret, were the perky, pretty models, all members of the Junior Museum Service League, the "Fashion Focus" honored organization.

Before taking of on their imaginary journey to points north, east, south, and west, wherever the magic name of Koret is known, the guests learned from coordinator Marion Bellamy that enthusiasm for an idea had been the key to success for both Stephanie Koret and the Junior Museum Service League.

Some years ago, when Mrs. Koret couldn't find the right skirt to team with sweaters sold by her husband, she put her enthusiasm and her designing talents to work and began Koret of California. Now her "idea" has stretched to five continents including a manufacturing plant in South Africa.

When the Junior Museum of Marin began its program to foster in children and adults an appreciation of the beauties of nature and wildlife in Marin, it was enthusiasm for their idea that launched the Junior Museum Service League and they have been offering volunteer and financial help ever since!

"Enthusiasm" was the key word in the success of Tuesday's "Cross Country" journey; enthusiasm for the versatility, wearability and pricing of the practical, yet high fashion Stephanie Koret coordinates which have won for her numerous distinctions including the 1956, 1957, 1958 Glamaur magazine award.

The vibrant, lovely colors of the Koret colorscope were complimented by the coordinated makeup of Beauty Counselors Gai Fleming and Frances Grimes. For the gad-abouts or stay-at-homes, The Salon of San Rafael had created hair styles that behave and look pretty digging in a garden or taking the Grand Tour!

"Advise to Vacationers" had been compiled by Orrick's Travel Bureau of San Anselmo via colorful, enticing travel posters and folders suggesting a trip to Bermuda, Miami, or Muir Woods as the perfect spot to wear a new Stephanie Koret 1959 fashion. Fascinating new designs in sunglasses imported by Wooster's from Europe added extra dash to each vacation bound outfit.

'GO-TOGETHERS'

For the first part of the journey, the "Fashion Focus" audience was invited to "hop in a car, grab your map, with Koret Weekenders, a weekend is a snap!" These were the wonderfully wearable, "go-togethers" for the woman who wants to be attractiveily dressed without spending precious hours or money taking care of her wardrobe. All were styled of Jacquard cotton knit, needed little or no ironing; each could go everywhere and arrive looking fresh and pretty. Weekend standouts, a stunning sheath dress of seafoam cotton knit with its own matching full length coat, and Mrs. Bert West in the new Stephanie Koret maillot swimsuit in Sea coral of elasticized cotton knit for a perfect, never stretch or sag fit.

On the second lap of the fashionable journey, guests went by boat cruising to a South Sea Island only to discover that this summer the glamour and carefree days of the Islands come to them in the Koret "Tradewinds" fashions. Each was bold, bright and beautiful in vivid solid tones of Meridian blue, Sunset red, Tropic sand and Atoll brown to be mixed or matched with the Pacific Floral prints. All were go-togethers, smarty pants, short shorts, reed tapers, and versatile shirts and skirts to create an entire summer wardrobe. Each had the miracle Koraset finish which means in the washing machine they go and then you don't even need an iron!

"Tradewinds" highlight: Mrs. John Pfeil in red-red gob jacket of homespun cotton with a vestee of floral print teamed with a slim matching Islander skirt (or could be Carmel shorts, short shorts or reed pants).

The travel-minded or the backyarders found that the special Cross Country trip had been timed so that some of the Koret designs from the first two laps of the journey would be available in Marin at Macy's and Modern Eve.

Beguiling terry cloth and denim fashions finished with Koraset, so-easy seer-suckers, and summer cotton knits were introduced on the last lap of the journey and seen for the first time by a fashion show audience with the models parading with white, pink and blue balloons, the Koret coordinate colors for summer.

"Correctly, Koret," summer '59:

"After the Swim," fringed in white, a luxurious terry seafarer poncho with big roomy pockets, under it all, Mrs. Harold Keller;

"Carefree Cruise," easy for Mrs. William Patten in shoreline seersucker pants, striped in black and white, with matching reef shirt to take a dunking like magic;

"Fair Weather Ahead" for Mrs. Jean Roberts sporting the summer's fairweather plaid sleeveless, turtle neck cotton knit pullover, atop slim black reed pants;

IN THE BAG

"In the Bag," literally, for Mrs. J. Stewart Harrison; by carrying an extra one she showed how her tricky terry cloth blouse could convert to a beach bag by a tug of the drawstring, or into a beach towel by unbuttoning the sides;

"Summer Walk," easy in the popular Carmel short, cotton knit in Pacific blue to team with plaided blue and white cardigan; the walker, Mrs. Marion Scott;

"Poolside Popover," Koradenim Carmel shorts with miracle finish Koraset so that creases stay razor sharp without ironing. Hugging them happily snappy Koradenim popover fringed in white, Mrs. Robert Parish the model;

"Mix and Match," Mrs. Rodgers Broomhead in summer's pretty pink Koradenim, a back wrap skirt, a scoop neck blouse; change-about possibilities: the pink shorts and contour bra;

"Beach Bewitcher" in beguiling pink flossily fringed with white, a terry beach towel dress to cover swim suit, dart quickly to a pool lunch and be belted or not; the bewitcher, Mrs. Preston Jones.

Next Tuesday, "Fashion Focus" will present a special Valentine show luncheon honoring The Pixie Parents of the Marin Art and Garden Center titled "Won't You Be My Valentine?" It is planned especially for mothers and pre-school children to enjoy spring favorites for mother from Ross Valley Shop with children's fashions from Adele Moran. The luncheons are open to the public and reservations may be made by calling Rickey's.

NEW OFFICERS of the Marin Rod and Gun Club Auxiliary were installed at recent ceremonies in the clubhouse at Point San Quentin. Front, left to right, are Mesdames John Marzetta, treasurer; Stephen Lato. president, and back, William A. Murray, secretary; and Charles Lamperti, vice president.

A WILL TO WRITE — Mrs. Mildred Button, almost completely paralyzed with bulbar polio, demonstrates how she fulfilled a driving determination to write. VOLUME OF HOPE

Polio Victim Writes Book Using Teeth

By JAMES L. FORBES

FRESNO (AP) — It is a small book.

Mrs. Mildred Button wrote it with her teeth.

For almost a year, she pecked out the first draft of the manuscript on an electric typewriter holding a mouthstick in her teeth. She manipulates it with a nod of her head.

For seven and one-half years she has been almost completely paralyzed with bulbar polio. Her head is the only part of her body she can move. She was afflicted when she was 23.

"Polio has taken my body, but I still have my brain," she says.

Fresno County Hospital's Millie has big blue eyes. Her hair is cut short in the modern style. She cannot breathe without mechanical aid and speaks only in a whisper. Medical experts say her case is hopeless; that she will never be cured.

Why did Millie write a book?

"To prove there is no such thing as a hopeless case," she whispered.

Millie hopes her book will inspire other polio victims not to falter in their fight against the crippling disease.

Her book is about polio and the attitude its victims have about it.

"I think a lot of people with polio have wrong impressions," she says. "I don't think their lives should stop just because of this. They go right on."

Less than a year ago Millie decided to do something about her urge to write. Without the movement of her hands she had to find another way. She began to practice with a mouthstick. At first it seemed impossible.

Five to six hours a day Millie hunted and pecked at the typewriter keys. When she made a mistake, she continued.

To Millie it was the message, not the time, that was important. Now the book is finished, but not Millie. She plans to continue her writing — next time short stories.

Taxpayers Assn. To Plan Suit At Feb. 18 Session

Purpose of the Marin County Taxpayers Assn. mass meeting set for Feb. 18 at 8 p.m. at San Rafael High School auditorium is to lay plans for a lawsuit to recover taxes on the county's secured tax roll paid in the last three years, announced P. J. Rowland, president of the association.

Rowland said the association invites all taxpayers to the Feb. 18 meeting. Taxpayers who had property assessed on the 1956, 1957 and 1958 secured rolls "may be entitled to a refund of illegally assessed and erroneously collected taxes amounting for the total three-year period of approximately $50 per $100 of assessed value," Rowland said.

Dizzying Look Into Crystal Ball: 15 Million More In Next Decade

When I look at the future I get dizzy. The years ahead will be fantastic. Are you getting ready for them?

Babies. We've been having about four million babies a year. Soon the figure will rise to five million. We'll give our babies superior care. Doctors will do a better job with them. So will schools. We'll produce a super generation. It'll break all the records. Watch and see.

Families. Formerly we wanted only two children per family. Now we want three. Experts say that in the 1960's we'll want four or more. Every part of family life will be changed. Now we have 60 million children under 18. In 10 years we'll have 75 million. See why I'm dizzy?

Schools. We are building schools fast just now. But what we're doing is small compared with the future. Wait until the 1960's. Then the children of our present huge group of teen-agers will be enrolled. We'll need unbelievable numbers of new schools. We'll need new teachers by the hundreds of thousands and new everything for education.

Colleges. Colleges have only started their growth. Their real struggle is still ahead. Colleges could double overnight, and still not meet the needs. The world of the future will require more and more college graduates. If your children qualify, be sure to send them to college. Then they'll be ready for the new way of life in the 70's, 80's and 90's.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Our daughter is 15. She'll soon have a baby. Should we force her and the boy to Marry? She begs us not to."

Mrs. J. D.

(A) From the guidance standpoint forced marriages are bad. Better results come when young unmarried mothers have their babies quietly and place them with good agencies for adoption. Then the young mothers can resume their places in their homes, and have a more normal life.

Absentee Ballots Available For Tam Tax Election

Absentee ballots for the Tamalpais Union High School District tax election on Feb. 17 may be obtained from the office of Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent of schools, 317 Fourth street, San Rafael, either by writing or by appearing in person.

Voters who go to the superintendent's office may cast their ballots at the same time. Ballots which are mailed must be postmarked Feb. 17 or before.

No. particular application form is necessary to obtain the ballot, but a written request for ballots by husband and wife must be signed by each, with the signature written as on the voter registration. For example, a married woman would sign her name as Mary Smith, not Mrs. John Smith.

Tam Freshmen Planting Ivy

Freshmen at Tamalpais High School have become gardeners.

The "freshmen garden project" under its class director, Sibil Cobb, is planting ivy over the stone walls and masonry in the upper court, according to class president Rycke Thompson, who will present the project to the school.

Students responsible for the acitivity include Rycke Thompson, Johnny Barnes, Sibil Cobb, Bev Montooth, Bill Richardson, Ken Clivio, all of Mill Valley and Steve Dazey of Sausalito. Class advisors are Mrs. Mabel Pittenger and Donald Michaelian.

5 Sonoma Unions Buy Land For Own Hospital

SANTA ROSA — Five labor unions have purchased a $72,000, four-acre property adjacent to the Santa Rosa Medical Clinic for construction of their own hospital.

The five Sonoma County unions are Teamsters Local 980, Carpenters Local 751, Bartenders and Culinary Workers Local 770, Butchers Local 2364 and Retail Clerks Local 1532.

A labor spokesman in Santa Rosa said the hospital will cost five million dollars. Plans call for construction to begin in 18 months. The object of the labor medical center will be "to halt the drain of health and welfare funds because of steady inflation of medical fees," the spokesman said.

Small Turnout Spurs Bridge Class Repeat

Ernest Rovere, who on the basis of past performance is a 21-to-1 shot to play a winning hand in a rubber of American Contract Bridge League politics will repeat first night instruction of a 14-week bridge course next Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Marin Jewish Community Center.

Irving Newman, director of the center, said additional first night instruction will be given next week because of a disappointing turnout Tuesday night. Only 19 were present for start of the course Tuesday, said Newman, whereas Rovere's last course at the San Rafael center drew about 60.

AFFECTED TURNOUT?

Newman would not speculate as to whether a current battle between Rovere and the executive committee of the Contract Bridge League's Western Conference affected the turnout.

Rovere blamed the battle — and the story on it which appeared in Monday's Independent-Journal.

The story reported the executive committee had recommended Rovere's ouster from the American Contract Bridge League. This was in error, said Rovere. The recommendation was to suspend him for three years from holding office.

Rovere has no battle with the Bridge League, he emphasized. In fact, once before the Western Conference's executive board tried to remove him from office. That was at Phoenix, Ariz., last Oct. 22.

OVERRULED BOARD

The outcome of that tussle gives Rovere his 21-to-1 odds to win the current set-to. On Nov. 27 at Detroit, the national board of the American Contract Bridge League overruled the Western Conference executive board 21 to 1. Rovere remains as a member of the ACBL's executive committee (to which he has twice been elected) and head of the Bay Area unit of the organization.

Behind the feud is a story of bridge table politics about as intricate as playing a seven-no trump.

The American Bridge League Western Conference was formerly a self-contained, self governed organization. As of the start of 1956, it became a "conference" of the ACBL. Part of the integration agreement was that the Western Conference should remain a unit until Dec. 31, 1960. After that, local conferences could be set up, as in other parts of the United States if there were sufficient demand.

NEW CONFERENCE

Rovere has been campaigning to set up such a conference in Northern California, when the five-year agreement expires. He said he has agreement from locals in San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley, Stockton, Santa Rosa, Sacramento, Livermore, Concord and Hayward to join such a new conference.

He objects that under the present setup, major tournaments in Northern California are run from the Western Conference's Los Angeles headquarters, instead of locally.

It is for this, said Rovere, that he was found by the Western Conference executive committee, headed by Dr. C. F. Crossley Jr. of San Rafael, to be guilty of "sabotaging" the conference.

Incidentally, Rovere started bridge nights at the Jewish Community Center six years ago.

"He bought us our first cards, and got us an American Contract Bridge League franchise to hold tournaments," recalled Newman.

The Jewish Community Center no longer holds the franchise, however. It is now held by Dr. Crossley, who conducts Wednesday night tournaments at the center.

DECORATION—AND RETIREMENT — Maj. Gen. Hugh A. Parker, commander of Western Air Defense Force, pins commendation ribbon on much-decorated blouse of M/Sgt. Cyril LaLancet as the Hamilton Air Force Base airman retired after 30 years of military service. (Air Force photo)

Hamilton Sergeant Receives Decoration At Retirement

Retirement and a decoration came together this week for M/Sgt. Cyril LaLancet at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Sergeant LaLancet, who lives at 1116 Olive avenue, Novato, retired as non-commissioned officer in charge of the communications maintenance division of Western Air Defense Force headquarters' directorate of electronics, after 30 years in Army and Air Force.

As LaLancet received his retirement, Maj. Gen. Hugh A. Parker, WADF commander, pinned on his blouse a commendation ribbon awarded for being "instrumental in reorganizing the communications maintenance system."

LaLancet began his military career in the Signal Corps, enlisting in 1928 at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii.

He transferred to the Air Corps in 1940, and first landed at Hamilton Field on Dec. 6, 1941, aboard a B17 Flying Fortress en route to Hickam Field, Hawaii. Shortly after 7 o'clock the following morning, the plane carrying LaLancet touched down at Hickam Field, third to land on that field after it became that morning the first battle area of World War II.

Sergeant LaLancet spent World War II in Australia, New Guinea and the Orient. He was assigned to Hamilton in 1948, and has been at the Marin field since except for about a year spent in Greenland in 1953-54.

A commendation medal was also awarded at Hamilton to Capt. Noel J. Henck, who lives at 1237 Denlyn street, Novato. Captain Henck, assigned to the directorate of tactical evaluation at WADF headquarters, was cited for his work from Sept. 1, 1957, to Oct. 26, 1958, as operations officer of the 750th ACW Squadron at Boron, Kern County.

Lights Sought At Barbecue Pits

The Fairfax Merchants Assn. decided yesterday to ask the city council at next Monday's meeting if lights can be installed near the Fairfax Park barbecue pits.

The 14 merchants who attended yesterday's meeting decided that they would like to hold several summer evening barbecues in the park.

Tony Costello, president of the association, asked Angelo Dismuke to continue investigating cost of sponsoring an Easter Egg hunt in Fairfax Park. The merchants will probably sponsor the hunt "unless cost is way out of line," reported Mrs. William T. Benson, secretary.

The Chrysanthemum Society of Marin will meet Monday at 8 p.m. at the First National Bank in San Rafael. Mrs. William Bremmer will discuss cuttings and root division as a means to achieve the best chrysanthemum bloom.

HE SHOULD TAKE HIS OWN ADVICE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bill McGarry devotes much of his weekly half-hour winter sports television show on KQED to discussing ways to avoid ski injuries.

When the program goes on tonight, Bill will be there—with his right leg in a cast. He chipped a bone in his ankle skiing last weekend.

Byzantine Chorus To Sing Here

The Bay Area's Byzantine Chorale will sing at the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo on Feb. 13 at 8:30 p.m.

The group of non-professional musicians will present Greek sacred, Byzantine and Greek folk music. They are chosen for their ability to read Patristic Greek, their knowledge of Greek liturgical music and a sense of the rhythm in Greek folk songs.

Byzantine music had its origin in the first centuries of Christianity. No music staff is used, but rather a chain of symbols guides the singer in the up and down progressions of the melody. Each hymn is based upon one of eight modes from which the Gregorian modes were derived.

Peru has an area of 532,000 square miles.

KRON Will Resume FM Broadcasting

FM radio station KRON-FM will resume broadcasting Feb. 16 after being off the air for four years, according to Harold P. See, general manager.

He said the station will operate on 96.5 megacycles and will concentrate on high fidelity broadcasts of classical and semi-classical selections. Frequent newscasts also will be presented.

Listeners will have a total of 42 hours a week of this diet, with the station on the air from 5 p. m. to midnight every day but Sunday.

Host will be Burt Case, who performed a similar duty for four years when the station was previously on the air.

According to See's announcement, KRON-FM will be prepared for multiplexing operations if this should appear desirable at any time in the future. Multiplexing, See explained, means that two completely different and unrelated programs can be broadcast simultaneously on the same frequency.

Going To Session

V. R. Furgason, pastor of the Fairfax Seventh-day Adventist Church, will represent the Northern California Conference at a meeting of denomination's West Coast governing organization, the Pacific Union Conference, Feb. 9-12 in San Francisco.

SHE'S GLAD SHE QUIT — Alice Faye poses with her husband, Phil Harris, in Hollywood while rehearsing for a television spectacular tomorrow night which marks a temporary return to show business after a 13-year absence. She says she's not the least bit sorry she turned her back on acting at the peak of her career. "I've never been happier than since I quit," she said. (AP Wirephoto)

Warsaw, Poland, founded in the 13th century, is nevertheless one of Europe's youngest cities today. About 85 per cent of it was destroyed during World War II and more than one million people live in the rebuilt city.

Alice Faye Says She's Never Regretted Giving Up Acting

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Miss acting? Not on your life. I've never been happier than since I quit."

This was mellow-voiced Alice Faye speaking. Thirteen years ago she turned her back on a career as one of the screen's brightest stars.

"I was never really wild for a career," she explains.

"After I married Phil (Harris), it became a rat race. When I wasn't working, he'd be out on the road with his band. When he came back, I'd be making a picture."

Though she was famed as a musical star, her last film, "Fallen Angel," was a drama. "I had some great scenes in it," she said, "but they ended up on the cutting room floor."

Alice had long been unhappy with the studio boss. So she quit. At first, she and Phil did a family radio series. Then she retired altogether to became Mrs. Phil Harris and mother of their daughters, now 16 and 14.

The Harrises live most of the year at Palm Springs. The desert life appears to agree with Alice.

Tomorrow she appears on a NBC spectacular starring Phi Betty Hutton and Dean Mar tin (8 p.m., KRON-TV). Alic was a bit uneasy about th show but she's getting used t it now.

RIDING THE TEEN-AGE MUSIC BOOM — Three young singers, who call themselves the Kingston Trio, are riding the teen-age music boom to early fortunes. Dave Guard, Bob Shane and Nick Reynolds, left to right, scored a hit with their recording of "Hang down yer head, Tom Dooley." But they know teen-agers are fickle, so the trio is broadening its audience with appearances all over the nation, especially at colleges. (AP Wirephoto)

'Tom Dooley' Brought Fame To Fresh-Faced Kingston Trio

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Three fresh-faced young men stepped up to the microphone. They were dressed identically in Ivy League pants and open-necked striped shirts. They plunked two guitars and a banjo and started crooning:

"Hang down yer head, Tom Dooley. . . ."

The youthful crowd of 6,000 in Los Angeles' Shrine Auditorium loosed a roar of approval.

". . . Pore boy, you're goin' t'die."

Cheers shook the great hall. This was the signal of acceptance for three bright fellows who are riding the teen-age music boom to early fortunes.

They are Dave Guard, Bob Shane and Nick Reynolds, who call themselves the Kingston Trio. The name is an accident — "We started out when the calypso craze was on, so it sounded like a good idea."

Nor, despite their hit with the backwoodsy ballad of the doomed Dooley, are they hillbillies. Dave and Bob grew up in Honolulu. Nick is from Coronado.

How did the Kingstons crack to the top of a music market that puts little emphasis on musical or intellectual quality? "Dooley" did it.

"The teen-agers buy single records, and they made it a hit," explained Guard, chief Kingstonian. "So far it has sold 1,800,000 here and about the same in England. We're just as amazed as anyone."

The boys got together at Palo Alto. All were business students, Dave at Stanford University and Bob and Nick at nearby Menlo College. Dave and Bob were chums from Hawaii, where they had strummed ukeleles to island tunes. The trio began playing their guitars and banjos and chanting folk tunes in campus hangouts.

San Francisco publicist Frank Werber introduced them to San Francisco niteries. They caught on, played other intimate clubs in Chicago and New York. A year ago, they signed with Capitol Records and made an album which became a best seller.

Marinite To Show Reconstructed Car In Oakland

S. David Soderstrom of 17 Manor drive, Kentfield, will exhibit a reconstructed 1932 Ford, which represents three years work, at the National Roadster Show Feb. 14-22 in the Oakland Exposition Building. Show hours are 1 to 10 p.m. on weekends and 6 to 10 p.m. during the week.

Soderstrom started his creation by taking a 1932 Ford three-window coupe and chopping the body two inches, installing a hammer-welded full steel top and a three-piece aluminum hood with louvers. It is painted with lacquer and tinted window glass is used.

Embellishments include aluminum front fenders on chromoly mounts, front and rear nerf bars, six Lucas tail and stoplights set at the trunk floor paneling, front and rear "suicide" suspension, Ford safety steering wheel and a built-in roll bar.

Bosses More Lenient On Jury Duty

NEW YORK (AP) — Most men and women at some time have heard a call to jury duty. Many have wondered how their bosses would take their absence and how much pay they'd lose.

The answer seems to be that today more and more employers are paying, at least in part, for the time off. More are urging their employees to forego any attempt to shirk the civic duty. This has spread to supervisors now as well as to the rank and file.

The change is shown today in surveys taken two years apart by the national Industrial Conference Board. Some companies pay in full, others in part. Some deduct the jury pay from this sum, others don't.

There are several reasons so many companies now keep the regular pay going.

One has been union pressure. New contracts in the auto industry, for example, call for $5 a day for jury duty of up to 14 days a year.

Another has been a growing sense of civic responsibility by businessmen.

A third reason suggested is that businessmen would like to see the jury system improved and think their people can help.

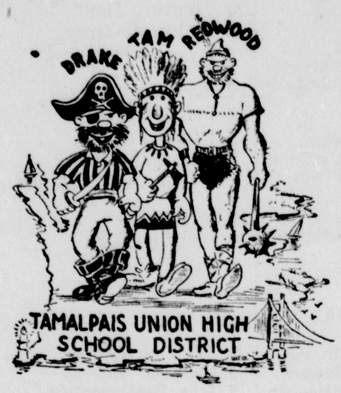
HERE ARE THE FACTS!

on the

Tamalpais Union High School District Special Election



Tuesday, February 17, 1959, for Redwood, Drake and Tamalpais High Schools

"SHALL THE PROPOSED INCREASE IN THE MAXIMUM TAX RATE FROM $1.25 TO $1.90, SUCH RATE TO BE IN EFFECT FOR THE FIVE-YEAR PERIOD JULY 1, 1959 TO JUNE 30, 1964 BE AUTHORIZED?" YES X

YES! Says The Citizens Committee For Education!

WHY THE MONEY IS NEEDED:

1. For additional teachers for the expected increase in enrollment, 10%. The district expects a net increase of nearly 400 students each year; this requires 13 to 15 more teachers.

2. For additional educational material and supplies, 14%. The new students will need textbooks, workbooks, stationery, lab equipment, desks, typewriters, and athletic supplies for the physical education classes required by law, among other essentials. NOTE: Equipment for athletic contests comes from student body fees and ticket sales for the games.

3. For restoration of curtailed maintenance, 10%. The district operates a $6,000,000 plant. Rising costs require additional funds to keep this plant in shape.

4. For upgrading the district salary program, 24%. Salaries must be competitive to obtain and retain top teachers. The maximum teacher salary in the district is now $7,500, compared with $8,050 for Novato High School, $8,100 for San Rafael High School, and $9,000 for the Larkspur Elementary School.

5. For maintaining the current level of education, 28%. The district is faced with a constantly rising cost of living. The current tax rate ceiling was set in 1947. Yet the district must pay 1959 prices for its goods and services.

6. For summer school, 5%. This program was dropped last year due to lack of funds. It is a great help for those students who desire extra college preparatory courses and those who require makeup classes. The state reimburses the district for the cost of this program, but the district must get it started.

7. For driving training, 3%. This program also was dropped last year due to lack of funds and it, too, is reimbursed by the state after the district starts it. Its importance is self-evident with the increased emphasis on highway safety. Insurance companies offer lower rates for young drivers who have this training.

8. Other, 6%. This includes the restoring of the child welfare and attendance program, and the clerical staff, which were curtailed after the May election. The child welfare and attendance program is an extension of the district's counseling facilities to the home, as well as a check on absenteeism.

ADDITIONAL FACTS

1. Why is the 65c increase asked for a five-year period? The Trustees believe that long range planning gives economical results and provides continuity to the school program.

2. How will the passage of this educational measure affect a taxpayer?

Appraised value of your home:	Assessed value of your home:	Your increased cost— Per year:	Per month:
$10,000	$2,300	$14.95	$1.25
15,000	3,450	22.43	1.87
20,000	4,600	29.90	2.49
25,000	5,750	37.38	3.12
30,000	6,900	44.85	3.74
35,000	8,050	52.33	4.36

3. The district passed a large bond issue in October, 1955. Why can't the money raised through the bond issue go toward operating expenses? The bond money can be used only for school construction, alteration and/or related purposes, such as the purchase of furniture and equipment. Money raised through taxes must be used for the district's operating costs.

4. How has the school program already been curtailed due to lack of funds? Needed books and supplies have not been bought, obsolete texts have not been replaced, and in all three schools the amount budgeted per student for equipment has been cut one-third—from $30 to $20.

The district has cut its maintenance staff from four men for two schools to two men for three schools. The 1957-58 budget provided $78,003 to maintain two schools; the 1958-59 budget has $55,804 for three schools. Of this, $11,000 is for equipment, allowing only $44,804 to maintain a SIX MILLION DOLLAR PLANT.

Summer school, driver training and work-experience programs already have been dropped.

5. Why hasn't the increase in residents in the district resulted in a corresponding increase in money available to the schools?—It has—but the continued rise in the cost of living has meant that the purchasing power of this additional income has not kept up with the increase in revenue.

6. If the district is growing, why won't the increase in assessed valuations provide the district with sufficient additional revenue to cover higher costs? Over the past years, the district's assessed valuation has been consistently increasing at a much slower rate than the student population growth. This has the effect of gradually reducing the assessed valuation behind each student, thereby causing a dilution of the available tax funds and the goods and services they provide.

7. What effect will the recent reappraisal have on state aid to the district? The state aid formula employs the district's assessed valuation to interpret the district's ability to finance its own educational program. Because of the recent Marin reappraisal, the district's assessed valuation increased some 15%, thereby reducing its eligibility for state money on the grounds that more local funds should be available for its schools. But these local funds have not kept up with the increase in the cost of operation.

8. How has inflation affected the cost of supplies and books?

	1948	1958	% Increase
History text	$ 3.40	$ 4.88	44
Chemistry text	3.08	4.96	61
Students' desk	20.45	31.15	52.3
Teachers' desk	57.75	89.20	54.4
Ruled ink paper (50 lbs.)	.77	.92	19.4

9. Is the $1.25 ceiling the total amount paid for district schools? No, but it is the current ceiling on operating and maintenance costs. An additional 30 cents is now levied for separate purposes: 20 cents is required by law to pay off school bonds. This figure is for 1958-59 and will be reduced each year as the bonds are redeemed. Five cents is required by law for the state retirement fund for district employees. Five cents is required by law which says that every school must be "a civic center" — open to public meetings, and functions such as Boy and Girl Scout meetings, Campfire Girls, Cub Scouts, and Red Cross swim classes. School boards administer this program simply because they are responsible for the buildings.

10. As a parent of elementary school children, why should I be concerned with a high school rate increase? Every family plans for the future. So must a school administration. This program will enable the district to plan ahead for the education of children now in elementary schools, children who will be attending high school in a very few years.

11. How do our students compare scholastically with students in other districts? Students in the district rank among the top one per cent of the nation's students as measured by the Iowa Test of sophomores and seniors; graduates who have attended University of California have earned for the district an Award of Merit for their scholastic record as freshmen, ranking well above graduates of other public and private high schools in the state. These achievements prove students in Redwood, Drake and Tam are receiving a topflight education as a result of excellent faculty and administrative policies and leadership.
